Federal Approval Needed

Turnkey Project Slated On Low-Income Housing

The Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority has designated a Columbus firm, subject to federal approval, as the "turnkey developer" of a $2,363,000 complex off Maine Blvd. to provide housing for 130 low-income families.

Housing Associates of Columbus was designated by the authority to provide the site and erect the project, turning it over to the housing authority when it has been completed to specifications.

Members of the housing authority and the Columbus firm are scheduled to meet at 9 a.m. Thursday at Chicago with officials of the regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to go over the final plans.

The firm is slated to build the units under plans being prepared by James N. Porter, architect.

The Columbus firm has picked an 11-acre tract off Maine Blvd. as the site for the complex. The housing units would be erected on a slope overlooking Beechwood and the Ohio Valley, with a playground and recreation area on the plateau at the top of the grade.

In electing to erect the units as a turnkey project, the authority exercised an option available to it under federal law. The alternative would have been to call for bids from contractors. Then the authority would have awarded the contract and supervised the construction to its specifications.

The contract method was utilized in the project for construction of a high rise apartment building in West End to provide housing for the elderly. It also will have 130 units. The Builders Co., Inc., of Youngstown is contractor for the $2,135,000 project, with work already under way.

HUD approved a $2,144,952 loan for the 130 units for low-income families last Dec. 30. The federal agency estimated at that time that $16,310 would be required to build and equip each of the units.

The $1,921,891 loan for the West End structure was approved in July 1967. The federal government anticipates a per unit cost of $11,349 on the high rise.

Courthouse To Close

LISBON — The Columbiana County Courthouse will be closed Thursday and Friday afternoons because of the County Fair.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, denouncing the invasion of Czechoslovakia as tragic and contrived, appealed today to the Soviet Union and other intervening nations to withdraw their troops.

PRAGUE (AP) — The Soviet Union, imposing its will on Czechoslovakia, sent tanks and troops into Prague today in an occupation designed to thwart the small nation's moves toward a liberalized brand of communism.

The lightning invasion began Tuesday night, and Moscow announced it involved forces of East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary as well as those of the Soviet Union. Moscow said it was coming in to "render necessary help to the fraternal Czechoslovak people." Moscow said it acted on an invitation from "party and government leaders" in Prague to put down a threat of counterrevolution imperiling the structure of communism.

No such invitation was announced here.

Some shooting was heard in Prague today, but a statement over Prague radio said Czechoslovak forces, tiny in comparison with the might of the Soviet Union and the combined arms of four other Communist states, had received no orders to defend the country. Prague radio appealed for restraint.

Available information indicated the occupation had come off with little resistance although the CTK news agency said several persons were killed and 25 wounded as occupying troops entered the building housing Prague radio.

Within hours Soviet paratroopers had surrounded Communist party headquarters in Prague, virtually imprisoning nine of the 11 presidium members and threatening to bring the eight-month-old liberal Czechoslovak regime under the Soviet thumb.

Prague Radio reported that "citizens are trying to stop with their bodies the advancing Soviet tanks which are heading for the Czechoslovak radio building."

Other Czechoslovaks reported for work in some offices this morning. Many had tears in their eyes.

Huddles With Humphrey

LBJ Calls Aides In Czech Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson consulted with key advisers well into the morning hours today after he was told in a secret meeting by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin that the Soviet Union was invading Czechoslovakia.

Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were closeted together in the White House until after 3 a.m. That was long after the President met in emergency session with the National Security Council, which advises him on crucial military and foreign policy matters.

As Johnson and Humphrey went into their postmidnight conference, both smiled readily at newsmen in the big lobby near the presidential office. Earlier, after the 55-minute NSC meeting, Johnson was grim and unsmiling.

Smiles or not, official Washington was viewing with deep concern the unfolding military drama in Czechoslovakia.

But, at least in the initial phases, very little was being said officially and publicly.

Dobrynin, it was learned, called the White House Tuesday evening to seek an unusual after-hours appointment with Johnson.

When the request was granted, he showed up in the presidential office bearing an official notification that troops of the Soviet Union, Poland and East Germany were entering Czechoslovakia.

Hopes Of 'Freer Life' For Czechs Seen Dimmed

LONDON (AP) — The swift Soviet bloc thrust into Czechoslovakia shattered hopes of West European leaders, that the Czechoslovaks might be able to work out some freer mode of life.

Some analysts of Soviet affairs had cautioned that Soviet action was inevitable unless there was a clampdown on the new liberalism. But most expected the Soviet Union to combine external pressures and internal subversion rather than use military force.

Soviet Ambassador Mihail N. Smirnovsky brought the first word to the British government in a postmidnight call at the home of Lord Chalfont, minister of state in the Foreign Office. He delivered an oral message for Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who immediately returned to London from a vacation in the Scilly Isles. Wilson called key ministers for a morning meeting and stayed in contact with Washington and other NATO allies.

Phillip Kaiser, minister at the U.S. Embassy, conferred with Chalfont and other British officials at 4 a.m.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart also hurried back from a holiday trip. At Downing Street he told newsmen, "It is very serious news indeed, coming particularly at the time when opportunities for better relations between East and West existed, if there had been the will to make use of them." Wilson made no comment to newsmen.

Sir Alex Douglas-Home, exprime minister and spokesman on foreign affairs for the opposition Conservative party, said in a statement: "Russia's crude use of military force has returned the world at one stroke

Striking Custodians OK New School Board Offer

BULLETIN

Striking school custodians early this afternoon voted to accept the latest pay increase offer from the East Liverpool board of education and to return to work.

A possible break in the week-long school custodians strike against the East Liverpool board of education over a proposed pay increase loomed today following a new offer from the board.

The custodians, members of Local 677 State, County and Municipal Employes Union, were scheduled to meet at noon, and there were strong hints they would accept the latest proposal.

At a meeting this morning with union representatives, Supt. Paul Blair presented the new offer which involves a pay boost along with employe only insurance coverage when additional money becomes available.

The board has continued to offer additional money to the custodians contingent upon approval of a new 7-mill levy in a special election Sept. 17 or from additional state funds.

Other conditions of today's proposal are a new starting salary of $4,400 and increments of $50 a year for 12 years, retroactive to the first day back to work when additional money becomes available, and a starting salary for the high school and Westgate head custodians of $5,200 with $50 increments a year for 12 years, retroactive to the first day back to work when additional monies becomes available.

Inmates Still Hold 9 Guards Hostage

Hope Held To End Revolt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Penitentiary Warden Marion Koloski said at 10 a.m. today he was "hopeful" of ending within a short time a rebellion of convicts who still hold nine guards hostage and under threat of death.

Koloski, meeting newsmen outside the century old prison, said the impasse now 24 hours old developed over the inmates' concern about their prosecution for June 24 rioting.

He reported one guard had been permitted into the four cell-block area where some 300 inmates have barricaded themselves, and learned all the hostages "are in good health."

Koloski said the inmates have demanded that "the law be changed" — referring to procedures now being undertaken for prosecutions in the June rioting and fires which caused an estimated $1 million damage.

"I assured them that everyone indicted would get a fair trial," the warden said.

Some inmates, he said, had asked for amnesty for the June rioting. He replied only that he was continuing his amnesty for the present outbreak.

He said Gov. James A. Rhodes and Department of Correction officials "have placed their confidence in me to resolve this situation." None of these officials plan to talk to the convicts, he said.

Earlier, State Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, a tough-minded "law and order" official who has seen service in many of the recent Ohio racial disturbances, arrived at the prison.

He said then "I hope we'll be able to get something settled quickly — whether they release them or whether we have to go in and get them."

About 35 heavily armed guardsmen are inside the prison, and more than 100 others are on standby alert, reinforced by about 75 Columbus policemen and a score of Ohio Highway Patrol officers.

"We're at an impasse, a stalemate," an exhausted Warden Marion J. Kolsski said early this morning.

The hostages - held under a threat of death by fire since shortly after 10 a.m. Tuesday—had not been harmed. Inmates furnished them with mattresses, food and cold drinks.

The guards were threatened with immolation by gasoline and lighter fluid unless prison authorities agreed to certain demands, including amnesty, a

Nixon Plans To Campaign Heavily In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says the Republican presidential ticket which he heads intends to campaign heavily in Pennsylvania this Fall.

He also assigned Gov. Shafer and former Gov. William W. Scranton key campaign roles for the state and the nation.

Nixon stopped off in Harrisburg for approximately three hours Tuesday to discuss campaign strategy with Shafer and Scranton as part of a four-day, six-state swnig through major industrial states.

"There has been some talk that I wasn't going to campaign in Pennsylvania, that I was writing the state off," Nixon told an enthusiastic crowd on hand to greet him on the Capitol plaza.

"Well, no candidate has won the presidency without carrying Pennsylvania and I don't intend to be the first."

Later he emerged from his hour meeting—first with Shafer and then with Scranton joining the consulstations—and declared to a news conference:

"Without question, Pennsylvania will be a battleground state. I intend to schedule it heavily, particularly in the urban areas, and Gov. Agnew will also scheduled it heavily."

The reference to Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP vice presidential candidate was regarded as significant since 34 members of Pennsylvania's 64-man delegation to the Republican National Convention opposed his nomination.

Nixon said both Shafer and Scranton had agreed to campaign for him in and out of Pennsylvania, adding that Pennsylvania would be Shafer's primary responsibility.

He also said he expected Scranton to be a major campaign advisor on foreign policy and Shafer on federal and urban relation.

Nixon linked Pennsylvania with New York, California, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Texas as the major states in his second bid for the presidency.

"This is where the action is and this is where we'll be," he said.

Romanian Unit Meets After Czech Invasion

VIENNA (AP) — The Romanian Communist party's central committee was called into special session today to discuss "the situation created by the fact of the penetration by foreign armies on the territory of the Socialist Republic of Czechoslovakia," a communique of the Romanian news agency Agerpres said.

The government of Romania has also been called in for special session. The communique contained no other details.

Nixon Plans To Campaign Heavily In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says the Republican presidential ticket which he heads intends to campaign heavily in Pennsylvania this Fall.

He also assigned Gov. Shafer and former Gov. William W. Scranton key campaign roles for the state and the nation.

Nixon stopped off in Harrisburg for approximately three hours Tuesday to discuss campaign strategy with Shafer and Scranton as part of a four-day, six-state swnig through major industrial states.

"There has been some talk that I wasn't going to campaign in Pennsylvania, that I was writing the state off," Nixon told an enthusiastic crowd on hand to greet him on the Capitol plaza.

"Well, no candidate has won the presidency without carrying Pennsylvania and I don't intend to be the first."

Later he emerged from his hour meeting—first with Shafer and then with Scranton joining the consulstations—and declared to a news conference:

"Without question, Pennsylvania will be a battleground state. I intend to schedule it heavily, particularly in the urban areas, and Gov. Agnew will also scheduled it heavily."

The reference to Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP vice presidential candidate was regarded as significant since 34 members of Pennsylvania's 64-man delegation to the Republican National Convention opposed his nomination.

Illustrates With Anecdote

Wallace Style Different, But Message Still Same

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — George C. Wallace likes to illustrate to audiences the purpose of his run for the presidency with an anecdote.

He says a reporter asked him recently whether he had changed his tune since his primary campaign four years ago, no longer dwelling on race.

The former Alabama governor replied, "I haven't changed a bit. You just weren't listening then. I'm saying the same thing now and it has nothing to do with race but philosophy of government."

True?

One who watched Wallace campaign in Indiana's Democratic primary in 1964 and who accompanied him through the same state last week, would question whether race could be so neatly separated, then or now, from the Wallace philosophical message.

But the free - swinging Wallace campaigning across the nation today is not the cautious, often tense Wallace who carried his crusade out of Dixie into the alien North four years ago.

His message is much the same; his rhetoric subtly different. The difference is revealing.

As an instance, four years ago Wallace put down hecklers at the University of Indiana with the cooly delivered line: "I always thought a hallmark of the liberal mind was its eagerness to hear all viewpoints."

Last week in Fort Wayne, he outshouted hecklers with such unhoned cracks as, "What you need is a good haircut," and, "These free-speech folks know all sort of four-letter words except w-o-r-k and s-o-a-p."

In 1964 Wallace believed his public image outside the South was, as he once confided, that of "an ign'rant ol' hookwormy redneck from Alabama." His articulate, genial, even sophisticated manner on the hustings was plainly disarming to his adversaries and counted much toward his success.

This year he apparently believes success depends on ridiculing rather than sophistication.

He talks of "guideline writers with pointed heads who can't even park their bicycles straight," and of "briefcase totin' bureaucrats telling you how to run your lives," and mockingly mispronounces words such as "rapport" and "dialogue" which, he says, "sophisticated people use instead of good old eyeball-to-eyeball talking."

His rhetoric, in fact, is reminiscent of his 1962 campaign for governor of Alabama when he repeatedly called a federal judge "a carpetbagging, scalawagging, integrating, race-mixing, bald-faced liar."

Wallace says his appeal is to "the average person on the street—the barbers, beauticians, policemen, firemen, steelworkers and ordinary working people who are going to decide this election."

His total approach seems calculated to win them over. A 10-piece band travels with him to warm up audiences with Sousa marches and old favorite tunes, and a platoon of attractive young "Wallace girls," who use little makeup and wear skirts that end discreetly just above the knee, mingle in the audience and pass contribution baskets.

Wallace says his third party candidacy is not for the purpose of being a spoiler in this year's election; he's out to win.

He points out that with three candidates running all he needs is 34 per cent of the popular vote in each state to win its electoral votes, and he believes enough "average people" in enough states share his views to make his election possible.

He also apparently feels the best way to reach them is with a style that combines colloquialism and calico—a style that once won for him more votes than any man who preceded him to the Alabama governor's office.

3 Men Wounded, Gunman Escapes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three men were wounded by gunfire late Tuesday and the gunman fled to a hotel, fired shots from a third-floor window, then ducked out a back fire escape and got away.

No policemen were injured in the shooting on Jay Avenue on the city's near West Side.

The shooting reportedly was triggered by an earlier street fight between whites and Puerto Ricans over a baseball game.

The shots came from the old five-story Jay Hotel.

The wounded men were identified as Jesus Munoz, 25, fair condition with wounds of the abdomen; Dullermo Torres, 21, poor condition with head wounds and Julio Mercado, 22, good condition with arm injuries.

Police said the men were shot while entering a bar in the basement of the hotel.

Kennedy Set For Address On TV Today

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is breaking the self-imposed political silence he has kept since the assassination of his brother, Robert F. Kennedy, last June 5.

Just five days before the opening of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Kennedy today goes before a luncheon meeting of the Worcester Chamber of Commerce for a nationally televised speech on the situation in Southeast Asia.

His speech, which is expected to lay emphasis on the war in Vietnam, appeared likely to be canceled for a time Tuesday when members of the striking International Brotherhood of Telephone Workers set up a picket line at Holy Cross College where the meeting will be held.

A spokesman for Kennedy said he never had crossed a picket line, and would be unlikely to do so in this case.

Kennedy, however, talked with Gerald Walsh, union president, who announced later the pickets were withdrawn.

The speech is scheduled for live broadcast on all three networks, ABC, CBS and NBC.

Joseph Mulvey, president of the Worcester IBTW local, ordered the picket line set up after he said supervisory employes of the struck New England Telephone Co. were installing wires for television and radio.

Red Double-Cross

For older residents of the Tri-State Area, the somber news of the entering of Czechoslovakia by Communist troops has the familiar tensely ominous atmosphere of 30 years ago when German jackboots pounded down Austrian and Sudetenland streets.

For the younger, it is an echo of 1956 and the grinding of tank motors, machine gun fire and the hopeless hurling of stones in Hungary.

For everyone in America and the free nations of the world, it was a reminder of the cruelly realistic attitude of hardcore strategists in the Kremlin who recognize the threat of a liberalized Czechoslovakia to the planned economy, the controlled existence of life under the hammer and sickle.

This direct reverting by the Warsaw Pact nations to armed invasion should prove to the anti-Moscow reds of Yugoslavia, Romania and elsewhere that the 1968 leaders of the USSR may be more tolerant in a few matters, more willing to permit some degree of independence, may seem less of a brutal bear than a grumpy uncle — but cannot afford to allow the open confrontation which the Dubcek regime represented.

Practicallity is the key word for the men of Marx, from Lenin through Stalin to Brezhnev. When an autocratically rigid government, aiming at agriculture and heavy industry goals, sensed the need in the masses for more consumer goods and a less work-oriented life, the Kremlin relented. But the longterm goals of international domination remain basically unchanged, and when it comes to paper agreements and promises in negotiations — such as those made to the Czechs at Bratislava less than a month ago — there is no honesty, no honorable fulfillment, only the inevitable force of arms which overcomes freedom, proving once again the fallacy of putting faith in anything anyone says from behind either the Iron Curtain or the Bamboo Curtain.

The men and women of Czechoslovakia thought they were at last on the road to liberty; instead they were taken into a trap where even greater oppression awaits.

Economy Move Doubted

Council acted wisely Monday night in deciding to make further investigation before proceeding with legislation that would reduce the city's regular "Meter Maid" force from four to two.

The issue involves much more than the comparatiyely small sum the city pays out annually in salaries for the meter attendants.

Council pledged itself in July, when granting a general pay increase to city employes, to make cutbacks in personnel to compensate for the additional outlay for payrolls. The pledge is commendable. In fact it was the only decision Council could make, the financial condition of the city being as it is.

But there is another side to the coin in the case of the "Meter Maids." The meter system is designed primarily to keep downtown parking spaces open for persons who drive into the heart of the city on business. Without continued proper enforcement, the street space would be taken over by all-day parkers and other "dead heads," crowding out the shoppers.

And once the public became aware of the lack of full enforcement, fewer and fewer nickels and dimes would be dropped into the meters. The devices, in serving their parking-control mission, are secondarily an important source of revenue to the city. They brought in $67,632 during 1967. Thousands of dollars more were paid in penalties for overtime tickets.

There is no question that the "Meter Maid" force is self-sustaining. The fines alone probably pay the salaries of the four regular attendants.

Before Council decides to halve the force, it should take a long, hard look at what might result — primarily a deterioration in downtown parking availability and a corresponding drop in revenue.

Perhaps a reduction of one in the four-member force can be justified, although there is a serious question. We hope Council will consider the alternatives earnestly before acting.

No Financial Santa Claus

We are hearing with increasing frequency how the end to the Vietnam War also will signal the solution to our domestic money woes.

There is a growing clamor echoing the belief that the $30 billion going down the drain in Vietnam yearly can be directed toward the war on poverty, urban rehabilitation and education.

Followers of this line of financial thinking are in for a rude awakening.

THEY ARE completely ignoring the fact the United States government is fighting the war with money it doesn't really have.

They have forgotten the recently announced historically high "peacetime" deficit of $25 billion. That means the government is spending $25 billion more than it has available.

So, when the war ends, the government will stop spending money it doesn't have. There really won't be any to pass along to other programs.

It is true, of course, that if public pressure became great enough the government could spend money it doesn't really have for domestic programs and operate at huge deficits usually reserved for wars.

But, as we all know, the big push now is for a more sensible financial procedure that would put government more in line with its income to create a sadly lacking stability.

Increasing pressure for responsible financial activity in federal circles is based on the belief that stability in money matters is fundamental to a sound government.

When a government operates at a deficit, it really is borrowing against the future ability of its citizens to pay off the debt in taxes.

IF THE FIGURE gets so large, a country's citizenry loses faith that it can ever be repaid, that nation is in trouble.

After the Vietnam War grinds to a halt, the American people will have to establish priorities in a variety of programs. A preference for cutting present programs to free money for others or continuing the dangerous deficit policy will have to be determined.

At any rate, some soul-searching will be in order because no financial Santa Claus is going to drop through the chimney with a bag full of dollars at the end of the war.

Unsettled School Year Ahead

The American Federation of Teachers is holding its convention in Cleveland this week amid reports of hundreds of strikes that will disrupt school systems across the nation in 1968-69.

Last year, strikes delayed the start of school for 2 million youngsters and other strikes hampered the education process in varying sections of the nation during the school year.

From statements coming from militant leaders of teacher associations, it would appear that inroads made by work stoppages last year have spurred support for an even more widespread use of strikes this year.

WAGE DEMANDS are a large part of teacher strike story but not all of the story.

Teachers are asking for smaller classes, less nonteaching responsibilities and a voice in curriculum choice and administrative policies.

A recent issue of Look Magazine presents the two sides of the strike question.

An opponent of strikes, Dr. William G. Carr, former executive secretary of the National Education Association, says:

"It is my considered personal opinion and advice that the use of strikes by the teaching profession for the economic advantage of the teacher, especially wen such action is contrary to law and order, will impair and ultimately destroy the confidence of the public in the teacher. And when that is gone, the American public schools will have lost something precious and irreplacable."

The other side is given by Mrs. Ruth Trigg, former head of the Classroom Teachers Association, who says: "I maintain that a teacher who finds himself in a situation where conditins are such that good education is an impossibility, having exhausted every other means of improving those conditions with no success, should walk out.

"I further maintain that this teacher shows more dedicatiin to his profession than does the teacher who stays on the job, perpetuating mediocrity. Perhaps the child's education will be interrupted for a week or a month but what is one week or one month when measured against years of education, all less than adequate?

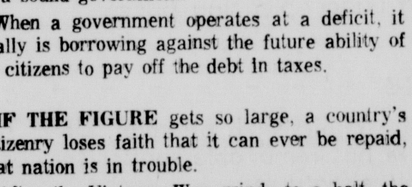

"If the teacher's militancy leads to improved conditions of learning, the child's opportunities are enhanced for a lifetime."

The public has been relatively quiet so far but if strikes are to become commonplace, then some questions are going to be asked by the people footing the education bill.

HAVE TEACHERS exhausted "every other means" of improving existing circumstances?

Do the strikes effect enough improvement to offset the examples of disregard for law, lack of respect for a signed contract and the wholesale abandonment of reasoning together for militant tactics that are placed before every student?

The coming school year may not reaolve the knotty strike problem but it will be the prime controversy in the education field.

Last week the Governor of West Virginia visited the Waterford Park Race Track. It was the first decent night of racing that has been held in the last few years, where you could read your form and play your horse by it. The form has been a useless piece of paper for quite a while, when night after night horses in the $20 to $80 mutuals have been the practice.

Everywhere I went in the grandstand, people were saying, "Why doesn't the governor come here every night?" I haven't seen so many happy people at the track in a long time.

Perhaps when Pennsylvania builds a track nearby, the management will wake up, if it is not too late already, to notice what is so obviously on the track that everyone can so plainly see and evidently condoned by management. A fan for better racing.

Democrats Fear Dock Strike

WASHINGTON — There comes a time in the lives of contemporary American presidents when they must face te bumptious bantam, Teddy Gleason, leader of most of the nation's longshoremen.

Victor Riesel

Now it is Lyndon Johnson's turn. "Teddy" and his colleagues can paralyze the nation's major ports from Maine to Texas on Oct. 1.

Ordinarily this would be exciting and hysterical labor news, just as it was when the late Jack Kennedy, at 9:30 a.m., Dec. 23, 1962, telephoning from Palm Beach, had Gleason pulled out of the shower and asked him not to call a waterfront walkout, and to come on down to Florida and work things out.

Red in the face and blue in the cheeks, Ted Gleason rebuffed the President, saying it was in the interests of his men to strike. They did.

This surprised no one but Jack Kennedy. The International Longshoremen's Assn., AFL-CIO, has not signed a new contract in 20 years without a strike.

That's stirring labor news. But in this year of the convulsive consensus, the potential crisis becomes intensely vital political news.

There's probably something which could upset the Democratic ticket more than the crippling of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts at the height of the campaign, but for the moment I can think of it. Especially since there's always the danger of nationwide strike fever.

PARALYZED PORTS mean immobilized shops. Struck freighters and passenger liners mean clogged piers as cargo and travelers pile up.

Clogged piers backwater into idle trucks, jammed warehouses, embargoed rail yards and miles of dead freight trains. Thousands are laid off. Angry public protests drown out political speeches.

And though this would be the first national labor crisis of the year, the Democrats would be charged with failing to bridle labor and being unprepared to handle national emergency strikes.

The crisis would overshadow one of the most constructive labor relations years since the cordwainers returned to work a century ago.

Thus far, in the words of the urbane and always unruffled Secretary of Labor, Willard Wirtz, 1968 hasn't been a year for "happenings" on the labor front.

"I think back to the concerns we felt at the end of last year," said Mr. Wirtz to a caller the other day. "We thought 1968 would be the toughest period in a long time, but it has turned out to be a fairly extraordinary non-event. It was full of un-happenings, and compared to the major disruptions we thought would develop, it's been quite a good year.

"WE HAD BARGAINING in rails, telephone, steel, aerospace, can and aluminum, and the copper strike was hanging over. But, except for the copper matter, thsee negotiations were settled by labor and management people themselves with few irritations and without government intervention.

"We made it know we were not going to get in. Non-intervention brought both sides together. On the national scene it was an uneventful year, obscured by the dramatic developments during the garbage strike in New York and Memphis and the electrician's strike in Chicago. Those made the front pages. The un-events did not.

"Now with the crises behind us, there are only the docks."

Indeed there are. Teddy Gleason is demanding a raise for his men to $6 an hour, a cut in the work week from 40 to 30 hours, complete union control of automation innovations and containerization — and a "tax" on new technological equipment to set up a fund which would guarantee income security for all longshoremen during their lifetimes.

"Automation and containierization," Gleason told me, "will destroy some 60,000 waterfront jobs in a few years. We want the men in those jobs to be guaranteed full income for life — until they quit, retire or pass away. Attrition, that's it.

"OUR MEN WILL show up for work. They'll be available each day. But work or not, we want that tax on the automated equipment to pay their wages as long as they're around."

Naturally the shippers aren't rushing over, pen in hand, to sign. This is a new era. The conglomerates are in shipping. Large corporations have bought such huge shipping firms as the U.S. Lines. Now they can take a long strike — and probably will.

On Sept. 15, Gleason will report to his membership and if the shippers' offer is not satisfactory, "Teddy" will tell his people to prepare to walk out Oct. 1 — five weeks before Election Day.

The Republicans will say we told you so, and will point to their labor platform which states that the Administration has not prepared for emergency strikes such as a port walkout — and during the Vietnam hostilities at that.

What the Democrats will say will not pass the test of a family newspaper.

As my old friend Sam Goldwyn, master of malparopism, once said about the atomic bomb: Don't fool with that, it's got dynamite in it.

Hanoi Listens

The Vietnam War is being prolonged and more and more Americans are being killed, because the North Vietnamese government, by reading the political debate inside the United States, has mistakenly come to the conclusion it can gain its objectives after the November elections in this country.

While both Mr. Nixon and Mr. Humphrey have refrained from allowing politics in any way to impair the American government's diplomatic efforts, war tactics, or the negotiations in Paris, Sen. McCarthy and other exponents of a supposedly "quick ending" of the war in Vietnam have been proposing what amounts to a virtual surrender by the South Vietnamese of their right of self-determination.

McCARTHY HAS OFFERED to the platform committee of the Democratic National Convention a plank which reads as follows:

"We (the United States) will propose, therefore, to establish by negotiation a new government in South Vietnam containing all major elements of the population including substantial participation by the National Liberation Front. It will be the job of this government to prepare for elections, and international supervision and guarantees of the election process will be invited.

"If the present leaders of South Vietnam refuse to agree to such a broadly based coalition we will then withdraw our support and our forces since an honorable peace will no longer be possible."

This means the Saigon government would be compelled to agree to be the victim of a takeover by the National Liberation Front, which is the Communist political arm in South Vietnam.

McCarthy says the South Vietnamese could continue their fight if they wish, but obviously they would be unable to do so without the help of United States forces. The moment American troops started to be withdrawn, it would be a signal to the Communist-led North Vietnamese army to begin a drive to conquer South Vietnam.

Nowhere in the proposals for a peace settlement which are being made by the critics of the Vietnam War is there any provision for a military force to guarantee that the terms would be carried out fairly. Unless the United Nations or an alliance of nations is willing to stand back of a peace agreement, it would be valueless.

The platform committee, which is meeting here this week, is hearing all kinds of proposals.

Roger Hilsman, a former assistant secretary of state — testifying at the behest of McCarthy —urged that the United States take the "gamble" of unilaterally halting all bombings of North Vietnam "without insisting on reciprocation." He acknowledged the Communists might try to "take advantage of our restraint," but he expects "political pressures" by neutral nations to make such an escalation only "temporary."

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, a Humphrey supporter, warned the platform committee that "there is a danger" in using debate over the platform as a forum for trying to dictate "specific tactics in foreign policy strategy." He declared:

"I think it would be a mistake for the Democratic platform to prescribe tactical military and diplomatic moves at this distance from the perspective of the negotiating table and he intelligence estimates available to the President."

THE CONFLICTING statements before the Democratic platform committee doubtless are being cabled abroad and are being read by the Hanoi government and Communist leaders in Moscow. These utterances give the impression that a growing number of people in America are demanding a virtual surrender in Vietnam.

Since President Johnson announced on March 31 that he would not be a candidate for re-election or accept renomination for the presidency, the United States has been making a constructive effort to bring peace in Vietnam through direct negotiations, started a few weeks ago.

The chances of getting an agreement, however, have been lessened by the political speeches in America which indicate to Hanoi that it can count on major concessions after the election.

Nothing could be more illusory, because McCarthy is not likely to be nominated, and neither Humphrey nor Nixon is apt to take any step which could lead to a surrender in disregard of all the sacrifices that have been made by American troops in Vietnam.

Red Double-Cross

For older residents of the Tri-State Area, the somber news of the entering of Czechoslovakia by Communist troops has the familiar tensely ominous atmosphere of 30 years ago when German jackboots pounded down Austrian and Sudetenland streets.

For the younger, it is an echo of 1956 and the grinding of tank motors, machine gun fire and the hopeless hurling of stones in Hungary.

For everyone in America and the free nations of the world, it was a reminder of the cruelly realistic attitude of hardcore strategists in the Kremlin who recognize the threat of a liberalized Czechoslovakia to the planned economy, the controlled existence of life under the hammer and sickle.

This direct reverting by the Warsaw Pact nations to armed invasion should prove to the anti-Moscow reds of Yugoslavia, Romania and elsewhere that the 1968 leaders of the USSR may be more tolerant in a few matters, more willing to permit some degree of independence, may seem less of a brutal bear than a grumpy uncle — but cannot afford to allow the open confrontation which the Dubcek regime represented.

Practicality is the key word for the men of Marx, from Lenin through Stalin to Brezhnev. When an autocratically rigid government, aiming at agriculture and heavy industry goals, sensed the need in the masses for more consumer goods and a less work-oriented life, the Kremlin relented. But the longterm goals of international domination remain basically unchanged, and when it comes to paper agreements and promises in negotiations — such as those made to the Czechs at Bratislava less than a month ago — there is no honesty, no honorable fulfillment, only the inevitable force of arms which overcomes freedom, proving once again the fallacy of putting faith in anything anyone says from behind either the Iron Curtain or the Bamboo Curtain.

Roger Hilsman, a former assistant secretary of state — testifying at the behest of McCarthy —urged that the United States take the "gamble" of unilaterally halting all bombings of North Vietnam "without insisting on reciprocation." He acknowledged the Communists might try to "take advantage of our restraint," but he expects "political pressures" by neutral nations to make such an escalation only "temporary."

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, a Humphrey supporter, warned the platform committee that "there is a danger" in using debate over the platform as a forum for trying to dictate "specific tactics in foreign policy strategy." He declared:

"I think it would be a mistake for the Democratic platform to prescribe tactical military and diplomatic moves at this distance from the perspective of the negotiating table and he intelligence estimates available to the President."

THE CONFLICTING statements before the Democratic platform committee doubtless are being cabled abroad and are being read by the Hanoi government and Communist leaders in Moscow. These utterances give the impression that a growing number of people in America are demanding a virtual surrender in Vietnam.

Since President Johnson announced on March 31 that he would not be a candidate for re-election or accept renomination for the presidency, the United States has been making a constructive effort to bring peace in Vietnam through direct negotiations, started a few weeks ago.

The chances of getting an agreement, however, have been lessened by the political speeches in America which indicate to Hanoi that it can count on major concessions after the election.

Nothing could be more illusory, because McCarthy is not likely to be nominated, and neither Humphrey nor Nixon is apt to take any step which could lead to a surrender in disregard of all the sacrifices that have been made by American troops in Vietnam.

Czech Crisis May Harden Foreign Affairs Posture

CHICAGO (AP) — At a sensitive moment in American politics, the Soviet Union's troop thrust into Czechoslovakia is likely to harden the foreign affairs posture of Democrats convening in Chicago and of the Republican party as well.

Among Democrats, the crisis in eastern Europe probably will assist Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who already is the commanding leader for the presidential nomination to be awarded at the party's national convention next week.

His chief rival, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, is banking heavily on a convention battle over Vietnam war polciy to bolster his bid to overtake Humphrey.

But echoes of the European crisis undoubtedly will make the task of Democratic doves far more difficult. For the convention is not likely to adopt a conciliatory plank on dealing with the Communists in Vietnam while Communist troops in Europe are on the march.

The movement by Soviet, Polish, East German, Hungarian and Bulgarian troops came after weeks of tension over internal liberalization of the Czech Communist regime. The trend represented a break with old-line communism.

The Soviet government said its troops moved at the request of Czechoslovakia to meet a threat to the Socialist system.

While the situation was not clear, its impact on the Democratic platform hearings under way in Washington could only be one of stiffening attitudes toward the Communist world.

President Johnson summoned the National Security Council into crisis session—and candidate Humphrey is a member of that panel.

If the crisis persists, the political drawbacks of identification with President Johnson's administration—and its Vietnam policy—may be offset for Humphrey by the tendency toward national unity behind the government, which normally occurs in times of international tension.

In fact, there has been the expected flurry of gossip that in this time of crisis there might be a late-starting movement to draft Johnson himself for the nomination—though he has said he would not accept renomination.

For the Republicans and their presidential nominee, Richard M. Nixon, there was a tinge of irony in the European developments.

Two weeks ago, Nixon accepted his nomination with a speech in which he held out hope for a time of negotiations with the Communist world.

"After an era of confrontation," he said, "the time has come for an era of negotiations. Where the world's super powers are concerned, there is no acceptable alternative to peaceful negotiations."

But the ever-cautious Nixon added that "we shall restore the strength of America so that we shall always negotiate from strength and never from weakness."

This was evident even in the swift adoption of a new strategy by Democratic promoters of a platform plank dedicated to ending the Vietnam war. Their argument: the heavy commitment of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia hampers the American ability to react to crisis elsewhere.

But the symbolism of a conciliatory Vietnam plank is not likely to prove attractive to the party's convention while a Democratic President seeks to deal with new trouble in Europe.

Council Passes Gas Rate Boost For Wellsville

Legislation providing a gas rate increase of 6.2 per cent was passed by Wellsville Council Tuesday night under suspension of rules.

The action scaled down the boost from the 8.4 per cent suggested originally.

The agreement reached between the city and the Ohio Valley Gas Co. covers the rates for a four - year period.

IN OTHER action, Council approved on second reading an ordinance for the purchase of "one-man" radar equipment for the police department and ordered legislation brought for a $10 monthly salary boost for sanitation clerk.

Under the gas legislation, approved by all seven councilmen, the maximum rate for an individual consumer for the first year per month will be:

30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,500 cubic feet; 7 85-100 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 298,500 cubic feet; 7 1-10 cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 300,000 cubic feet. A monthly minimum charge of $3 was set.

Rates for the second year will be 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,700 cubic feet; 7 85-100 per 100 cubic feet for the next 298,300 cubic feet; 7 1-10 cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 300,000 cubic feet, with a minimum charge of $3.

Rates for the next two years are: 30 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,900 cubic feet; 7 95-100 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 298,100 cubic feet; 7 1-10 cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 300,000 cubic feet, with a minimum charge of $3.

AN EFFORT to pass the radar ordinance on third and final reading failed when J. Brad Phillips, Paul Todd and Robert Taggart cast negative votes.

Taggart questioned the legality of presenting the legislation for second reading at the same meeting.

Nunzio Lombardozzi, acting as president in the absence of Wayne Rose, ruled, however, the action was legal. Phillips, Todd and Taggart again voted no. Russell Keefer, Glenn Mathess, Lombardozzi and Jack Call voted yes.

Regarding the radar, Taggart commented, "I doubt if it ever will be used." Call said, "Residents are complaining about speeding. The one - man radar will be a definite aid to the police in checking this." Andrew J. Lynn, clerk, remarked, "If you don't give the police department the one - man radar equipment, you hamper them.

Lombardozzi expresed the opinion that it not only would provide revenue for the city, but would stop speeding. Mathess pointed out that one - man radar would cost approximately $1,700 and another type $1,000.

Lombardozzi, chairman, presented a recommendation of the street and light committee that the request of Angelo Georgetti, operator of the river rail terminal, for the vacation of Carbon Alley be granted, with reservation for right-of-way for the city around the sewage plant. Legislation was ordered brought in.

In other action by his committee, Lombardozzi recommended further investigation of the request of Ken Long, who has acquired property on Aten Ave., to vacate Kenmore St. The request was tabled until the additional study. Lombardozzi also asked that a "No Parking in Driveway Sign" be placed at the Sam Diloreto property on 11th and Commerce Sts. to relieve obstruction of the driveway.

KEEFER, chairman of the property committee, raised the question of the possibility of leasing the city's property on the old waterworks site between the pumping station and the flood wall in the east end to the Ace Trucking Co. He was asked to obtain more information on the matter.

The street and light committee will investigate the possibility of erecting street lights on 18th St. Heights as requested by Charles Potts and J. Joseph and a light on Boyce Ave. asked by Tom McGraw.

The clerk was instructed to notify Chief of Police John Hebner and Fred Baldasare, safety - service director, that the current curfew law be enforced by the sounding of the siren nightly. Todd said that police had pointed out it would help them a lot if the siren was sounded.

Acting on a suggestion of Keefer that a lot on 17th St. between Clark and Chester Aves. be cleaned, Council instructed that a letter be sent by the service - safety director to the property owner regarding the weed ordinance and that proper steps be taken to enforce the action.

Permission was granted C. Heiney to cut the curb at his property at 1301 Center St. for a driveway under the supervision of the safety - service director.

Mathess, chairman of the finance committee, recommended the salary increases for Mrs. Helen Secrist, sanitation clerk, pointing out that the department has been given the additional duty of handling parking meter fees. The proposed increase would be retroactive to May.

THE REQUEST of John Jarvis, an extra city fireman, to meet with Council to discuss a raise for his group was referred to the finance committee, the chairman of which will call a meeting. The firemen now receive $1.62 an hour.

In a communication the Ohio Power Co. advised city council that four lights requested in the west end had not yet been installed due to the strike. Notification was given in a communication from the Board of Elections that the one - half mill levy to provide additional funds for parks and playgrounds would appear on the November ballot.

In reply to a complaint that a dredge operating in the 18th St. area had damaged trees on private property, Army engineers from Pittsburgh and the Dravo Corp. stated that the owners would be contacted and they would do whatever the owners desired.

An ordinance vacating 858 square feet on 3rd St., requested by the Bonded Oil Co. planning to erect a station there, was returned unsigned by Mayor William W. Daugherty. The action now will become law without his signature.

Legislation also was ordered for the vacating of Carbon Alley in the 18th St. area.

The mayor's report showed a collection of $502.60 for violations in July.

Judge's Ruling Awaited In Barron Bribery Trial

CHARLESTON (AP) — Federal Judge J. Robert Martin was scheduled to open court today with a ruling on a defense motion to supprss certain evidence in the bribery-conspiracy trial of former Gov. W. W. Barron and five others.

The evidence in question was supplied to the government by an accountant and an attorney, both from Florida, who testified Tuesday that they were retained by three corporations which the government contends were set up collect money in exchange for state government contracts.

The defense claims the evidence, if presented to the jury, would violate attorney-and agent-client relationships and breach rights contained in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth amendments to the Constitution.

THE FOURTH Amendment prohibits "unreasonable searches and seizures," the Fifth allows a defendant to refuse to testify because of self-incrimination and the Sixth extends to the defendant the right to confront and cross examine his accusors.

Besides Barron, the defendants are former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers; his former assistant, Vincent Johnkoski; former Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore; Elkins attorney Bonn Brown; and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred Schroath.

All six are accused in a federal indictment of conspiring to commit bribery in the aware of state government contracts.

The accountant called to the stand, after the jury was excused from the courtroom, was Hugh Benton of Boca Raton, Fla., who said he was employed in 1961 by Schroath to handle the books for three corporations; American Brokerage, Atlantic Management and Interstate Services.

THE ATTORNEY was Judson Samuels of Hollywood, Fla., who said he was approached by Schroath and retained as counsel for the three companies. Samuels said he prepared the minutes for the corporations and later handled their dissolution.

The defense attorneys, however, objected to the two witnesses on the grounds that their testimony would violate attorney - and agent - client relationships. They cited several legal rulings to sustain their position.

Benton testified that when Internal Revenue Service agents contacted him and asked to see records and correspondence of the companies, he talked with Edgar Lawson, Schroath's brother-in-law, who Benton said had appeared to be acting under Schroath's directions even though he was not an officer of any of the companies.

Benton said Lawson told him it would be all right to let the IRS agents inspect the records.

Samuels told the court that he telephoned Schroath when IRS agents contacted him and was assured that they were investigating only a minor tax matter and that they could see the files.

THE DEFENSE claimed that the two men's testimony would be inadmissible because, in the first instance, Benton was acting as agent for the corporations and had no right to turn over the records and, in the second instance, Samuels had an obligation to keep in confidence records and letters entrusted to him by his client.

However, the government claimed that neither contention was applicable.

The government maintained that Benton was acting merely as a corporate officer and that the IRS had a right to inspect the companies' fiscal records.

As for Samuels, the government said he too was acting merely in a noncounsel capacity and was retained to carry out duties which could be handled by a nonattorney and that therefore his acts were not covered under the attorney-client theory.

Hume testified that his firm bid in 1961 on a contract calling for white reflectorized paint to be used in painting center lines along West Virginia highways.

Hume said his company did not receive the contract but was second low bidder. When the low bidder, West Virginia Prison Industries of Moundsville, could not supply the paint on time, Sherwin-Wailliams was not asked to supply the paint, Hume added.

Meeting With Rockefeller

Nixon Counting On Help From Defeated GOP Foe

The GOP standardbearer headed into a meeting today with Rockefeller confident the New York governor will become a full-fledged backer of the Republican ticket.

If he does, it would help Nixon win the support of the more liberal Republicans who backed Rockefeller for the presidential nomination.

Speaking from an auto roof in front of his New York apartment Tuesday night, Nixon told boosters welcoming him home from his first national trip: "Tomorrow, I'm going to meet with the leaders of the party in New York and we expect to get their help."

In addition to conferring with Rockefeller in the apartment building where they both live, Nixon also sought to recruit Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R—N.Y.

And, he scheduled a session with Republican Sens. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Howard Baker of Tennessee.

Nixon told supporters that the week and a half of campaigning and private conferences since his nomination has assured him the campaigning help of Govs. Ronald Reagan of California; James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania.

In addition, he said, Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and Charles L. Percy of Illinois are putting their weight behind the Nixon campaign.

"In the past four days, we have made more progress than has ever been made in a political campaign in getting the leaders of the Republican party behind the ticket so we can go after the Democratic vote and the independent vote," Nixon said.

The homecoming wound up a day that began with breakfast at the Ohio State Fair with Rhodes and included a visit to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lay gravely ill.

"He has the will to live and it is the will to live that has been a factor without which he would not have survived." Nixon said of the man whom he served as vice president for eight years.

Nixon visited with Mrs. Eisenhower but did not go to the general's bedside.

Favorite Son, Uncommitted Votes

Large Delegations Seen HHH First-Ballot Hope

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's chances for a first ballot nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention could hinge on a dozen large delegations where nearly 750 votes are either held by favorite sons or uncommitted. The Associated Press survey showed today.

The latest AP tally of solid first ballot strength, based on primary results, public pledges and AP delegate surveys, gives Humphrey 852½ votes—still more than 450 away from the 1,312 needed for the nomination. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has 453½ and Sen. George S. McGovern has 32½. Only solid support is counted, not those leaning to a candidate.

But most of those who lead the major uncommitted or favorite son blocs are considered favorable to Humphrey.

This includes seven favorite sons: Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, with 104 votes; Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana, 36; Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, 51; Gov. Dan K. Moore of North Carolina, 59; Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina, 28; Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., of Virginia, 54; and Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, 57.

Also considered favorable to the vice president are the dominant figures in three other important states: Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in Illinois, where 92 votes are uncommitted; Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, where 51 votes are uncommitted; and National Chairman John M. Bailey in Connecticut, where 35 votes are uncommitted.

The other two big blocs of uncommitted delegates are in the California delegation led by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, where 142 are uncommitted, and in New York, where 66½ are uncommitted. Both groups supported Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated.

In addition, there are still large groups of uncommitted votes in states such as Michigan, Indiana, Nebraska, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia and the District of Columbia, where the Rev. Channing Phillips is currently listed as a favorite son.

Altogether, the uncommitted vote in the newest AP poll stands at 821½ with 449 held by favorite sons. Another 13 are scattered, including one delegate with a one-half vote in Alabama for Gov. Lester G. Maddox of Georgia whose home state delegation is entirely uncommitted.

Mail Theft Gang In Cleveland Is Broken, 3 Held

CLEVELAND (AP) — Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert S. Turoff says a mail theft gang which netted $40,000 in stolen checks has been broken up with the arrest of three East Side persons.

He said Tuesday that alert bank tellers helped catch the three, who tried cashing stolen checks at the same bank twice. More arrests are expected, he added.

Turoff said members of the gang rifled open sacks of mail left for pick-up in the lobbies of downtown office buildings.

Postal inspectors said about 100 checks were stolen this way and cashed at Cleveland area banks with the aid of phony identification.

All are free on bond.

Two Plead Innocent In Stolen Stocks Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Ohio men, accused of conspiring to transport $225,000 worth of stolen stocks, pleaded innocent in fed-eral court Tuesday.

Judge Lloyd F. MacMahon continued $5,000 bail after the pleas by Joseph M. Mainer, 48, unemployed, of Youngstown, and Edward J. Farris, 38, a store-owner of Struthers, allowing them to travel to Ohio until fur-ther court proceedings Sept. 17.

Judge's Ruling Awaited In Barron Bribery Trial

CHARLESTON (AP) — Federal Judge J. Robert Martin was scheduled to open court today with a ruling on a defense mo-tion to supprss certain evidence in the bribery-conspiracy trial of former Gov. W. W. Barron and five others.

The evidence in question was supplied to the government by an accountant and an attorney, both from Florida, who testified Tuesday that they were retained by three corporations which the government contends were set up collect money in exchange for state government contracts.

The defense claims the evi-dence, if presented to the jury, would violate attorney-and agent-client relationships and breach rights contained in the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth amend-ments to the Constitution.

THE FOURTH Amendment prohibits "unreasonable search-es and seizures," the Fifth al-lows a defendant to refuse to testify because of self-incrimin-ation and the Sixth extends to the defendant the right to con-front and cross examine his ac-cusors.

Besides Barron, the defend-ants are former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers; his former assistant, Vincent Johnkoski; former Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore; Elkins attorney Bonn Brown; and Clarksburg auto dealer Al-fred Schroath.

All six are accused in a fed-eral indictment of conspiring to commit bribery in the aware of state government contracts.

The accountant called to the stand, after the jury was ex-cused from the courtroom, was Hugh Benton of Boca Raton, Fla., who said he was employed in 1961 by Schroath to handle the books for three corpora-tions; American Brokerage, At-lantic Management and Inter-state Services.

THE ATTORNEY was Judson Samuels of Hollywood, Fla., who said he was approached by Schroath and retained as coun-sel for the three companies. Samuels said he prepared the minutes for the corporations and later handled their dissolution.

The defense attorneys, how-ever, objected to the two wit-nesses on the grounds that their testimony would violate attor-ney - and agent - client relation-ships. They cited several legal rulings to sustain their position.

Benton testified that when In-ternal Revenue Service agents contacted him and asked to see records and correspondence of the companies, he talked with Edgar Lawson, Schroath's bro-ther-in-law, who Benton said had appeared to be acting under Schroath's directions even though he was not an officer of any of the companies.

Benton said Lawson told him it would be all right to let the IRS agents inspect the records.

Samuels told the court that he telephoned Schroath when IRS agents contacted him and was assured that they were investi-gating only a minor tax matter and that they could see the files.

THE DEFENSE claimed that the two men's testimony would be inadmissible because, in the first instance, Benton was acting as agent for the corporations and had no right to turn over the records and, in the second instance, Samuels had an obli-gation to keep in confidence rec-ords and letters entrusted to him by his client.

However, the government claimed that neither contention was applicable.

The government maintained that Benton was acting merely as a corporate officer and that the IRS had a right to inspect the companies' fiscal records.

As for Samuels, the govern-ment said he too was acting merely in a noncounsel capacity and was retained to carry out duties which could be handled by a nonattorney and that there-fore his acts were not covered under the attorney-client theory.

Before the jury retired Tues-day, the government called its 24th witness, Edward L. Hume of South Charleston, W.Va., a branch manager for the Sher-win-Williams Paint Co.

Hume testified that his firm bid in 1961 on a contract calling for white reflectorized paint to be used in painting center lines along West Virginia highways.

Hume said his company did not receive the contract but was second low bidder. When the low bidder, West Virginia Prison Industries of Mounds-ville, could not supply the paint on time, Sherwin-Wailliams was not asked to supply the paint, Hume added.

Meeting With Rockefeller

Nixon Counting On Help From Defeated GOP Foe

The GOP standardbearer headed into a meeting today with Rockefeller confident the New York governor will become a full-fledged backer of the Re-publican ticket.

If he does, it would help Nixon win the support of the more lib-eral Republicans who backed Rockefeller for the presidential nomination.

Speaking from an auto roof in front of his New York apart-ment Tuesday night, Nixon told boosters welcoming him home from his first national trip: "To-morrow, I'm going to meet with the leaders of the party in New York and we expect to get their help."

In addition to conferring with Rockefeller in the apartment building where they both live, Nixon also sought to recruit Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R—N.Y.

And, he scheduled a session with Republican Sens. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts and Howard Baker of Tennessee.

Nixon told supporters that the week and a half of campaigning and private conferences since his nomination has assured him the campaigning help of Govs. Ronald Reagan of California; James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Raymond Shafer of Pennsylva-nia.

In addition, he said, Sens. Ev-erett M. Dirksen and Charles L. Percy of Illinois are putting their weight behind the Nixon campaign.

"In the past four days, we have made more progress than has ever been made in a politi-cal campaign in getting the leaders of the Republican party behind the ticket so we can go after the Democratic vote and the independent vote," Nixon said.

The homecoming wound up a day that began with breakfast at the Ohio State Fair with Rhodes and included a visit to Walter Reed Hospital in Wash-ington, where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lay gravely ill.

"He has the will to live and it is the will to live that has been a factor without which he would not have survived." Nixon said of the man whom he served as vice president for eight years.

Nixon visited with Mrs. Eisen-hower but did not go to the gen-eral's bedside.

Large Delegations Seen HHH First-Ballot Hope

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey's chances for a first ballot nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention could hinge on a dozen large delegations where nearly 750 votes are either held by fa-vorite sons or uncommitted. The Associated Press survey showed today.

The latest AP tally of solid first ballot strength, based on primary results, public pledges and AP delegate surveys, gives Humphrey 852½ votes—still more than 450 away from the 1,312 needed for the nomination. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has 453½ and Sen. George S. Mc-Govern has 32½. Only solid sup-port is counted, not those lean-ing to a candidate.

But most of those who lead the major uncommitted or fa-vorite son blocs are considered favorable to Humphrey.

This includes seven favorite sons: Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, with 104 votes; Gov. John J. McKeithen of Louisiana, 36; Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, 51; Gov. Dan K. Moore of North Carolina, 59; Gov. Robert E. McNair of South Carolina, 28; Gov. Mills E. God-win Jr., of Virginia, 54; and Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, 57.

Also considered favorable to the vice president are the domi-nant figures in three other im-portant states: Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley in Illinois, where 92 votes are uncommit-ted; Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, where 51 votes are uncommitted; and National Chairman John M. Bailey in Connecticut, where 35 votes are uncommitted.

The other two big blocs of un-committed delegates are in the California delegation led by As-sembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, where 142 are uncommitted, and in New York, where 66½ are un-committed. Both groups sup-ported Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated.

In addition, there are still large groups of uncommitted votes in states such as Michi-gan, Indiana, Nebraska, Ala-bama, Arkansas, Georgia and the District of Columbia, where the Rev. Channing Phillips is currently listed as a favorite son.

Altogether, the uncommitted vote in the newest AP poll stands at 821½ with 449 held by favorite sons. Another 13 are scattered, including one dele-gate with a one-half vote in Ala-bama for Gov. Lester G. Mad-dox of Georgia whose home state delegation is entirely un-committed.

Mail Theft Gang In Cleveland Is Broken, 3 Held

CLEVELAND (AP) — Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert S. Turoff says a mail theft gang which netted $40,000 in stolen checks has been broken up with the arrest of three East Side persons.

He said Tuesday that alert bank tellers helped catch the three, who tried cashing stolen checks at the same bank twice. More arrests are expected, he added.

Turoff said members of the gang rifled open sacks of mail left for pick-up in the lobbies of downtown office buildings.

Postal inspectors said about 100 checks were stolen this way and cashed at Cleveland area banks with the aid of phony identification.

Czech Crisis Held Peril To 'War Plank'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of the Vietnam war acknowledged today the Soviet troop move into Czechoslovakia likely will make it harder to nail a specific war-ending plank into the Democratic party platform.

But the supporters of such a plank, admitting they are a minority of the 110-member Platform Committee, insisted they still have high hopes of carrying their point in the Democratic National Convention.

They began to push a new argument: That the heavy commitment of men and materials in Vietnam hampers the United States' reaction to crises elsewhere.

The news that Warsaw Pact troops had crossed the Czech frontier broke dramatically at a platform hearing Tuesday night just as Secretary of State Dean Rusk was completing the administration's major defense of its Southeast Asia policy.

Rusk bore down hard on two contentions. Abandoning collective security in Asia by withdrawing would be "an invitation to disaster" and a political convention, "in spite of its distinguished membership," is no place to write detailed instructions to diplomatic negotiators.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who visited the committee but did not stay for Rusk's testimony told newsmen the secretary's appearance amounted to "a voice from the past."

McCarthy is pushing a plank including a bombing halt and admission of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm, into an interim coalition government for South Vietnam.

When the first report, an Associated Press bulletin, on Czechoslovakia was passed to Rusk and simultaneously read to the committee the secretary hastily excused himself and sped down back stairs to a waiting limousine.

Committee members opposing the administration, who had pressed for his appearance so they could question him, had no opportunity to do so.

Later, however, Rusk sent word to the committee he will make every effort to attend one of its executive sessions this week in Chicago and undergo questioning there.

Committeeman John J. Gilligan of Ohio, one of the leaders in the push for a specific plank on disengaging from Vietnam, said the Czech development "may well strengthen the hard liners."

But he said his group's plans have not changed and their hopes are high.

Gilligan said it was a bad break for his side that the timing of the news cut off public questioning of Rusk, but that he could not quarrel with the secretary's desire to head for his post immediately.

No Report On Fate Of Crews

North Viet Troops Down 9 American Helicopters

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops trying to fight out of an allied cordon shot down nine American helicopters below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Enemy ground gunners opened up on reconnaissance helicopters, then dueled with allied helicopter gunships called in by the scouting choppers. All of the downed craft were reported recovered, but there was no word on the fate of their crews.

The engagement Tuesday came as troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were closing a cordon around an estimated 100 North Vietnamese troops six miles northeast of the provincial capital of Quang Tri City.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang that U.S. troops succeeded in closing the cordon about midnight and sporadic firing continued through today.

Initial reports said 13 North Vietnamese troops and three U.S. cavalrymen were killed, while 15 Americans were wounded.

In other fighting along the DMZ, U.S. Marines reported killing 20 enemy soldiers northeast of Con Thien. One American was killed and seven wounded.

Far south in the Mekong Delta, nine more U.S. helicopters were damaged on the ground during a wave of 15 mortar and light ground attacks against allied airfields and provincial and district capitals.

Until today only the delta had been spared from the new intensified fighting that began with enemy attacks Sunday, shattering a two-month lull in the ground war.

The delta attacks, apparently well coordinated, came during a two-hour period before dawn and were described by U.S. headquarters as harassment. Such attacks are common, however, when enemy troops are maneuvering into position for a major assault.

The nine damaged helicopters were hit by mortar shells during attacks on the big Soc Trang airfield, 100 miles south of Saigon, and on the Vinh Long airbase, 75 miles below the capital.

The enemy followed the mortar attacks with six ground assaults against allied outposts but contact was broken off by early morning. Initial reports claimed 12 enemy killed, but the final toll was expected to run higher.

On the allied side, the delta attacks killed one U.S. civilian and wounded 12 others. Four South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 27 wounded. South Vietnamese civilian casualties were put at nine dead, including five children, and 41 wounded.

In the foothills of the central highlands, more than 200 enemy troops stormed U.S. and South Vietnamese artillery positions after hitting them with a mortar barrage. Two companies of South Vietnamese militiamen and a platoon of paratroopers from the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade backed by artillery and dive-bombers repelled the attack after five hours of fighting.

Thirty enemy troops were reported killed. South Vietnamese casualties were 10 killed and 23 wounded. American losses were put at three dead and 12 wounded. Six Vietnamese civilians also were reported wounded.

Enemy troops also attacked the U.S. Air Force base at Phan Rang, 160 miles northeast of Saigon, today with mortar and small arms fire. U.S. casualties and damage to the base were termed light.

Enemy troops slammed about 50 mortar rounds into a U.S. base camp 18 miles east of Tay Ninh, near the Cambodian border, where the heaviest fighting in the latest offensive started Sunday. Casualties and damage were reported light.

Six B52 bomber strikes were launched against suspected enemy positions around Tay Ninh Tuesday and today.

The U.S. Command officially revised its count of casualties suffered when an enemy force overran a joint U.S. Marine-South Vietnamese militia post Tuesday near the provincial capital of Hoi An, 360 miles northeast of Saigon.

Originally, the command said the camp's 34 defenders had all been killed, but new figures listed nine Marines and a U.S. Navy corpsman killed and two Marines wounded. Four of the 24 South Vietnamese militiamen in the camp were killed, one was wounded and the rest were missing, spokesmen said.

federal investigation of the ancient prison, and replacement of present state parole board members.

Koloski said he agreed to some of their demands -- including amnesty--but that the prisoners refused to give in. Between 300 and 400 prisoners were involved. The inmate population is about 2,500.

Koloski said there is no federal agency to make such investigations and that the make-up of the parole board is a matter for the legislature, which is not in session.

"The reason we spend so much time talking to the prisoners," he said, "is because human lives are at stake."

Three guards and two prisoners were injured Tuesday. One guard suffered a heart seizure, one a head laceration and one a back injury when he was shoved down some stairs. Nature of the prisoner injuries was not available.

While the penitentiary situation dragged on a riot flared up Tuesday night and was swiftly put down at the Lebanon Correctional Institution 75 miles southwest of Columbus.

Five Lebanon prisoners were shot, and some 20 other persons injured after about 200 inmates refused to return to cells. The prisoners were returned to their cells and the institution declared secured within two hours.

A unit of Ohio National Guardsmen assembled at an armory in Columbus and about 35 guardsmen went into the penitentiary. About 60 highway patrolmen also were on prison duty to augment the normal guard force.

Prison officials said it was unlikely that Gov. James A. Rhodes would comply with one prisoner demand that he meet with convicts.

Maury C. Koblentz, state corrections chief, said there appeared to be several factions among the inmates and "they can't agree among themselves."

"We told them what we can do and will do," Koloski said. "But no matter what we give to them they ask for something else."

Koloski said they would be given immunity from Tuesday's action--but not from the June 24 riot and fires which hit the 133-year-old prison, leaving an estimated $750,000 damage.

Koloski, who became warden July 15, said those involved in Tuesday's incident included 89 men singled out as ringleaders in the June 24 riot. They were being held in semi-solitary confinement in two cell blocks known as C and D.

These men are scheduled for grand jury appearances to determine their alleged roles in the riot.

Koloski said Tuesday began as a normal day. After being given breakfast, inmates in cell blocks C and D were being taken in groups of twos and threes to the baths.

Sometime after 10 a.m., Koloski said, a couple of prisoners jumped a guard, took his keys and began releasing other convicts, the prisoners streamed from their cells and grabbed guards as hostage.

But two of them were soon freed, one because of a slight head cut and another who suffered a mild heart seizure, according to Koblentz.

The other hostages were pushed into cells and kept there.

A group of other prisoners set fire to the commissary in the courtyard, but the fire was quickly extinguished. The prisoners also tried unsuccessfully to loot the commissary.

As the day wore on, the convicts demanded their side of the story be given to newsmen. A group of news representatives was allowed in to talk to them.

They complained of court procedures within the prison for disciplinary cases. They demanded that 12 guards whom they called "sadistic" be fired.

One inmate, Ralph Armstrong of Columbus, said the Tuesday uprising was "a plea for help. That's it in a nutshell."

to the atmosphere of the cold war."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and his Cabinet conferred after a night of studying news dispatches and diplomatic reports, then issued a statement condemning the invasion as "a clear violation of Czechoslovak sovereignty and interference in its internal affairs."

Bonn thus broke its long-standing policy of declining comment on the liberalization in Czechoslovakia.

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt and Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder were on vacation, Brandt aboard a ship off the Norwegian coast, Schroeder on the North Sea island of Sylt. Both headed for Bonn when the news broke.

At his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Pope Paul VI delivered a prepared address for his last general audience before he was to leave for Colombia. Then he added that he hopes "the dignity of a people jealous of its destiny will not be offended" by the Soviet bloc invasion. He said he hopes "wisdom will prevail over any problem."

Addressing himself to the Czechoslovak people, he said, "This appearance of power cannot but provoke trepidation in our spirit which shares the feeling of your entire nation." He called for avoidance of "conflicts of violence and blood."

Vatican informants said the Pope would proceed on his planned trip to Latin America.

As in Washington and London, Soviet ambassadors made calls to other NATO leaders. In Paris, Ambassador Valerian Zorin called on Bernard Tricot, secretary-general of President Charles De Gaulle's Elysee Palace, to inform him of the troop movements.

De Gaulle was quickly alerted, as were Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and Foreign Minister Michel Debre. Couve was in the French Alps on vacation. A government plane was sent to Geneva to pick him up.

There was no immediate reaction from the government or from the French Communist party which has strongly opposed any Soviet pressure on the Czechoslovak reform program.

De Gaulle has been working for more peaceful East-West relations and has been insisting that the Soviet threat to the West has diminished.

Italy's Communist party, largest in the West, has sided with the Czechoslovak liberal wing. Its newspaper L'Unita bannered the news and wrote: "The move has provoked emotion and sincere preoccupation in the international and Italian workers' movement."

Mitchell Sharp, Canada's foreign secretary, said the Soviet bloc troop movement could set back progress for East-West understanding but that there did not appear to be an immediate threat to peace.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau was on vacation.

Hungarian uprising 12 years ago.

The Soviet tanks and troops presumably were airlifted into Prague airport for the attempt to crush Czechoslovakia's liberalization drive.

Prague Radio, which broadcast intermittently throughout the morning, said clashes had taken place between the occupying troops and citizens who built barricades.

An official Soviet statement issued in Moscow said that Soviet, Bulgarian, Polish, East German and Hungarian troops had moved into Czechoslovakia to save that country from the enemies of communism.

Unconfirmed reports in Moscow said a coup in Prague Tuesday deposed Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and replaced his liberal regime with leaders who invited the Soviet troops.

But Dubeck and his colleagues were reported meeting in the party's Central Committee headquarters, the building surrounded by Soviet paratroopers and tanks marked with white crosses.

Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda ws reported in his office at Prague Castle, which was surrounded by other troops.

In Bratislava, troops of five Warsaw Pact countries were said to be holding key positions on main roads, the airport, the Danube Bridge and the radio station.

A crowd of many thousands gathered in the main square in the center of the city to demonstrate peacefully and express their support for Dubcek and the party leadership.

Radio stations controlled by the liberal government were forced off the air. Only Vltava, described by Prague Radio as an illegal station of the occupying armies, remained on the air. It broadcast appeals to the Czechoslovak military to support the invaders.

There were unconfirmed reports that two Czechs were killed in a clash in Prague. A car was seen squashed by a tank, but it was not known how the incident occurred.

Prague Radio at one point said shooting outside the radio building was gaining in intensity and that "cannon firing" could be heard.

It broadcast an unconfirmed report that Cestmir Cisar, chairman of the Czechoslovak National Council, "has been deported by three unknown men to an unknown destination."

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK said "sounds of shooting were heard in the building of CTK. . . It seems to come from automatic rifles."

Ruling Deferred In Zoning Study

The City Planning Commission, meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, conducted a public hearing on an application to change the zoning of a tract of ground occupied by the former Riggs Co. building at 745 Dresden Ave. to clear the way for erection of a new service station.

George Steele, chairman, said the commission took the case under advisement. The next regular meeting of the commission will fall Sept. 9, but a ruling could be issued prior to that time, he indicated.

The site now is zoned "M-2," for limited industrial use, and the classification now sought is "B-2," central business district. The application was filed in July by the First National Bank as trustee for P. R. Blake and James H. Riggs, executives of the former wholesale grocery firm.

The commission heard testimony from a representative of the Atlantic Refining Co., which proposes to purchase the property if the zoning is altered.

Of course there are blood disorders which cause nosebleeds and a physician is required. But the average nosebleed is only a temporary discomfort. If this type of bleeding of the nose happens too often, perhaps the blood vessels in the nose may be too fragile, or too close to the surface.
Or, bleeding may be caused by a small ulcer, which bleeds from time to time. If so, it can be easily cauterized by your physician, or a nose specialist. If nosebleeding occurs too frequently; if it becomes a recurring nuisance, a physician should be consulted.

Prison

federal investigation of the ancient prison, and replacement of present state parole board members.

Koloski said he agreed to some of their demands -- including amnesty--but that the prisoners refused to give in. Between 300 and 400 prisoners were involved. The inmate population is about 2,500.

Koloski said there is no federal agency to make such investigations and that the make-up of the parole board is a matter for the legislature, which is not in session.

"The reason we spend so much time talking to the prisoners," he said, "is because human lives are at stake."

Three guards and two prisoners were injured Tuesday. One guard suffered a heart seizure, one a head laceration and one a back injury when he was shoved down some stairs. Nature of the prisoner injuries was not available.

While the penitentiary situation dragged on a riot flared up Tuesday night and was swiftly put down at the Lebanon Correctional Institution 75 miles southwest of Columbus.

Five Lebanon prisoners were shot, and some 20 other persons injured after about 200 inmates refused to return to cells. The prisoners were returned to their cells and the institution declared secured within two hours.

A unit of Ohio National Guardsmen assembled at an armory in Columbus and about 35 guardsmen went into the penitentiary. About 60 highway patrolmen also were on prison duty to augment the normal guard force.

Prison officials said it was unlikely that Gov. James A. Rhodes would comply with one prisoner demand that he meet with convicts.

Maury C. Koblentz, state corrections chief, said there appeared to be several factions among the inmates and "they can't agree among themselves."

"We told them what we can do and will do," Koloski said. "But no matter what we give to them they ask for something else."

Koloski said they would be given immunity from Tuesday's action--but not from the June 24 riot and fires which hit the 133-year-old prison, leaving an estimated $750,000 damage.

Koloski, who became warden July 15, said those involved in Tuesday's incident included 89 men singled out as ringleaders in the June 24 riot. They were being held in semi-solitary confinement in two cell blocks known as C and D.

These men are scheduled for grand jury appearances to determine their alleged roles in the riot.

Koloski said Tuesday began as a normal day. After being given breakfast, inmates in cell blocks C and D were being taken in groups of twos and threes to the baths.

Sometime after 10 a.m., Koloski said, a couple of prisoners jumped a guard, took his keys and began releasing other convicts, the prisoners streamed from their cells and grabbed guards as hostage.

But two of them were soon freed, one because of a slight head cut and another who suffered a mild heart seizure, according to Koblentz.

The other hostages were pushed into cells and kept there.

A group of other prisoners set fire to the commissary in the courtyard, but the fire was quickly extinguished. The prisoners also tried unsuccessfully to loot the commissary.

As the day wore on, the convicts demanded their side of the story be given to newsmen. A group of news representatives was allowed in to talk to them.

They complained of court procedures within the prison for disciplinary cases. They demanded that 12 guards whom they called "sadistic" be fired.

One inmate, Ralph Armstrong of Columbus, said the Tuesday uprising was "a plea for help. That's it in a nutshell."

Czech Crisis Held Peril To 'War Plank'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Critics of the Vietnam war acknowledged today the Soviet troop move into Czechoslovakia likely will make it harder to nail a specific war-ending plank into the Democratic party platform.

But the supporters of such a plank, admitting they are a minority of the 110-member Platform Committee, insisted they still have high hopes of carrying their point in the Democratic National Convention.

They began to push a new argument: That the heavy commitment of men and materials in Vietnam hampers the United States' reaction to crises elsewhere.

The news that Warsaw Pact troops had crossed the Czech frontier broke dramatically at a platform hearing Tuesday night just as Secretary of State Dean Rusk was completing the administration's major defense of its Southeast Asia policy.

Rusk bore down hard on two contentions. Abandoning collective security in Asia by withdrawing would be "an invitation to disaster" and a political convention, "in spite of its distinguished membership," is no place to write detailed instructions to diplomatic negotiators.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who visited the committee but did not stay for Rusk's testimony told newsmen the secretary's appearance amounted to "a voice from the past."

McCarthy is pushing a plank including a bombing halt and admission of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm, into an interim coalition government for South Vietnam.

When the first report, an Associated Press bulletin, on Czechoslovakia was passed to Rusk and simultaneously read to the committee the secretary hastily excused himself and sped down back stairs to a waiting limousine.

Committee members opposing the administration, who had pressed for his appearance so they could question him, had no opportunity to do so.

Later, however, Rusk sent word to the committee he will make every effort to attend one of its executive sessions this week in Chicago and undergo questioning there.

Committeeman John J. Gilligan of Ohio, one of the leaders in the push for a specific plank on disengaging from Vietnam, said the Czech development "may well strengthen the hard liners."

But he said his group's plans have not changed and their hopes are high.

Gilligan said it was a bad break for his side that the timing of the news cut off public questioning of Rusk, but that he could not quarrel with the secretary's desire to head for his post immediately.

No Report On Fate Of Crews

North Viet Troops Down 9 American Helicopters

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops trying to fight out of an allied cordon shot down nine American helicopters below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Enemy ground gunners opened up on reconnaissance helicopters, then dueled with allied helicopter gunships called in by the scouting choppers. All of the downed craft were reported recovered, but there was no word on the fate of their crews.

The engagement Tuesday came as troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division were closing a cordon around an estimated 100 North Vietnamese troops six miles northeast of the provincial capital of Quang Tri City.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert D. Ohman reported from Da Nang that U.S. troops succeeded in closing the cordon about midnight and sporadic firing continued through today.

Initial reports said 13 North Vietnamese troops and three U.S. cavalrymen were killed, while 15 Americans were wounded.

In other fighting along the DMZ, U.S. Marines reported killing 20 enemy soldiers northeast of Con Thien. One American was killed and seven wounded.

Far south in the Mekong Delta, nine more U.S. helicopters were damaged on the ground during a wave of 15 mortar and light ground attacks against allied airfields and provincial and district capitals.

Until today only the delta had been spared from the new intensified fighting that began with enemy attacks Sunday, shattering a two-month lull in the ground war.

The delta attacks, apparently well coordinated, came during a two-hour period before dawn and were described by U.S. headquarters as harassment. Such attacks are common, however, when enemy troops are maneuvering into position for a major assault.

The nine damaged helicopters were hit by mortar shells during attacks on the big Soc Trang airfield, 100 miles south of Saigon, and on the Vinh Long airbase, 75 miles below the capital.

The enemy followed the mortar attacks with six ground assaults against allied outposts but contact was broken off by early morning. Initial reports claimed 12 enemy killed, but the final toll was expected to run higher.

On the allied side, the delta attacks killed one U.S. civilian and wounded 12 others. Four South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 27 wounded. South Vietnamese civilian casualties were put at nine dead, including five children, and 41 wounded.

In the foothills of the central highlands, more than 200 enemy troops stormed U.S. and South Vietnamese artillery positions after hitting them with a mortar barrage. Two companies of South Vietnamese militiamen and a platoon of paratroopers from the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade backed by artillery and dive-bombers repelled the attack after five hours of fighting.

Thirty enemy troops were reported killed. South Vietnamese casualties were 10 killed and 23 wounded. American losses were put at three dead and 12 wounded. Six Vietnamese civilians also were reported wounded.

Enemy troops also attacked the U.S. Air Force base at Phan Rang, 160 miles northeast of Saigon, today with mortar and small arms fire. U.S. casualties and damage to the base were termed light.

Enemy troops slammed about 50 mortar rounds into a U.S. base camp 18 miles east of Tay Ninh, near the Cambodian border, where the heaviest fighting in the latest offensive started Sunday. Casualties and damage were reported light.

Six B52 bomber strikes were launched against suspected enemy positions around Tay Ninh Tuesday and today.

The U.S. Command officially revised its count of casualties suffered when an enemy force overran a joint U.S. Marine-South Vietnamese militia post Tuesday near the provincial capital of Hoi An, 360 miles northeast of Saigon.

Originally, the command said the camp's 34 defenders had all been killed, but new figures listed nine Marines and a U.S. Navy corpsman killed and two Marines wounded. Four of the 24 South Vietnamese militiamen in the camp were killed, one was wounded and the rest were missing, spokesmen said.

to the atmosphere of the cold war."

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and his Cabinet conferred after a night of studying news dispatches and diplomatic reports, then issued a statement condemning the invasion as "a clear violation of Czechoslovak sovereignty and interference in its internal affairs."

Bonn thus broke its long-standing policy of declining comment on the liberalization in Czechoslovakia.

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt and Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder were on vacation, Brandt aboard a ship off the Norwegian coast, Schroeder on the North Sea island of Sylt. Both headed for Bonn when the news broke.

At his summer residence in Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Pope Paul VI delivered a prepared address for his last general audience before he was to leave for Colombia. Then he added that he hopes "the dignity of a people jealous of its destiny will not be offended" by the Soviet bloc invasion. He said he hopes "wisdom will prevail over any problem."

Addressing himself to the Czechoslovak people, he said, "This appearance of power cannot but provoke trepidation in our spirit which shares the feeling of your entire nation." He called for avoidance of "conflicts of violence and blood."

Vatican informants said the Pope would proceed on his planned trip to Latin America.

As in Washington and London, Soviet ambassadors made calls to other NATO leaders. In Paris, Ambassador Valerian Zorin called on Bernard Tricot, secretary-general of President Charles De Gaulle's Elysee Palace, to inform him of the troop movements.

De Gaulle was quickly alerted, as were Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and Foreign Minister Michel Debre. Couve was in the French Alps on vacation. A government plane was sent to Geneva to pick him up.

There was no immediate reaction from the government or from the French Communist party which has strongly opposed any Soviet pressure on the Czechoslovak reform program.

De Gaulle has been working for more peaceful East-West relations and has been insisting that the Soviet threat to the West has diminished.

Italy's Communist party, largest in the West, has sided with the Czechoslovak liberal wing. Its newspaper L'Unita bannered the news and wrote: "The move has provoked emotion and sincere preoccupation in the international and Italian workers' movement."

Mitchell Sharp, Canada's foreign secretary, said the Soviet bloc troop movement could set back progress for East-West understanding but that there did not appear to be an immediate threat to peace.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau was on vacation.

Hungarian uprising 12 years ago.

The Soviet tanks and troops presumably were airlifted into Prague airport for the attempt to crush Czechoslovakia's liberalization drive.

Prague Radio, which broadcast intermittently throughout the morning, said clashes had taken place between the occupying troops and citizens who built barricades.

An official Soviet statement issued in Moscow said that Soviet, Bulgarian, Polish, East German and Hungarian troops had moved into Czechoslovakia to save that country from the enemies of communism.

Unconfirmed reports in Moscow said a coup in Prague Tuesday deposed Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek and replaced his liberal regime with leaders who invited the Soviet troops.

But Dubeck and his colleagues were reported meeting in the party's Central Committee headquarters, the building surrounded by Soviet paratroopers and tanks marked with white crosses.

Czechoslovak President Ludvik Svoboda ws reported in his office at Prague Castle, which was surrounded by other troops.

In Bratislava, troops of five Warsaw Pact countries were said to be holding key positions on main roads, the airport, the Danube Bridge and the radio station.

A crowd of many thousands gathered in the main square in the center of the city to demonstrate peacefully and express their support for Dubcek and the party leadership.

Radio stations controlled by the liberal government were forced off the air. Only Vltava, described by Prague Radio as an illegal station of the occupying armies, remained on the air. It broadcast appeals to the Czechoslovak military to support the invaders.

There were unconfirmed reports that two Czechs were killed in a clash in Prague. A car was seen squashed by a tank, but it was not known how the incident occurred.

Prague Radio at one point said shooting outside the radio building was gaining in intensity and that "cannon firing" could be heard.

It broadcast an unconfirmed report that Cestmir Cisar, chairman of the Czechoslovak National Council, "has been deported by three unknown men to an unknown destination."

2 fiber glass belts stabilize the tread with a tensile strength greater than steel

That's stable. So stable, the tread won't squirm like it does on ordinary tires. So it wears longer. Up to 40% longer than the same tire without these belts. All that strength holds the tread open. Lays it down flatter. Socks it to the road.

2 plies of tough nylon cord for high speed dependability

Cross plies, not radial, for more stability. Nothing resists impact like nylon. You can really drive on this tire.

The John Rossmans of Fostoria say:

"We found electric home heating clean, comfortable and so reasonable."

"Until you've lived in a home with electric heating, you just can't imagine how great it is . . . so clean, so comfortable," says Mrs. Rossman.

"And the cost is so reasonable." Only about a dollar a day for everything—the refrigerator, range, washer and dryer, water heater, two televisions, electric garage door opener, a host of other appliances . . . and the clean, flameless electric heating!

The Rossmans agree, "We wouldn't have any other type of heat! In fact, we'd be willing to pay more because we like electric heating so well!"

You too can be just as happy with electric heating and its operating costs. Call Ohio Power today for a free, no-obligation estimate of what it would cost to comfort-heat your home with flameless electric heating.

Charley Finley, owner of the Oakland A's, and Frank Lane, the first (of many) general manager fired by Finley when the A's were based in Kansas City, were talking recently about how Finley's team would draw when it came into Kansas City to play the expansion Royals next season.

"They'll fill the stadium with my enemies," said Finley, who was unpopular, to say the least, in KC. "There's no stadium big enough to hold your enemies," replied Lane, never one to back away from controversy. We're with you there, Frank.

DUE TO A temporary strike by special police at Yankee Stadium, kids had a field day there the other day during a game. Play was held up by rain, and the ground crew covered the infield with a tarpaulin. Kids started running out onto the field, sliding in the puddles on the tarp. Nothing was destroyed, and when the rain ended the youngsters returned to their seats and the ground crew uncovered the field and play resumed.

CLYDE McCULLOUGH, former Pirate now managing the Mets' top farm club in Jacksonville, had a run-in with promising prospect Greg Goossen. McCullough objected to things Goossen was singing on a plane, and demoted the catcher-first-baseman to Memphis.

INDIAN FARMHAND Mike Hedlund has pitched four one-hitters for Waterbury in the Eastern League this season. His latest bid for a no-hitter was foiled by ex-Kent St. star Thurman Munson, now playing for Binghamton.

YOU LITTLE LEAGUE umpires think you have trouble with parents? After a Midwest League game at Cedar Rapids, Ia., recently, Bill McVay, father of Cedar Rapids pitcher Dick McVay, jumped from the stands and slugged umpire Joe Brinkman on the jaw.

Dapper Ron Swoboda, the mod Met, had a swinging time against the San Francisco Giants.

Swoboda, who occasionally accentuates his lengthy sideburns with a set of love beads, displayed great affection for Giant pitching Tuesday night, driving in five runs in New York's 8-0 victory over San Francisco.

The splurge included a three-run eighth-inning homer—Swoboda's first in almost a month—and helped Tom Seaver win his 11th game.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, Philadelphia bombed St. Louis 8-2, Pittsburgh rapped Cincinnati 8-3, Houston outlasted Los Angeles 8-5 and Chicago took Atlanta 6-5 in 10 innings.

Swoboda, who had struck out three times in 17 frustrating innings as the Mets lost 1-0 the night before, made up for it Tuesday.

He drove in a run with a fielder's choice grounder in the third inning, singled another across in the fifth and climaxed a four-run Met rally in the eighth with his 11th home run of the year.

It was his first homer since July 23 and only his fourth since the end of April.

Seaver worked six innings, allowing four hits, before wilting in the Shea Stadium heat. Cal Koonce finished up.

Larry Dierker, who hasn't lost a game in two months, ran his record to 12-10 as the Astros hopped on Don Drysdale and defeated the Dodgers.

Rusty Staub drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Danny Coombs extinguished a ninth-inning Dodger rally, preserving Dierker's sixth consecutive victory.

Cookie Rojas and Clay Dalrymple hit home runs and the Phillies clawed the Cardinals, ending Nelson Briles' five-game winning streak.

Briles retired the first two batters in the first inning and then two walks, four hits and an error cost him four runs. Rich Allen doubled one across and singles by Bill White and Gary Sutherland produced two of the others.

Rojas hit a solo homer in the second and Dalrymple connected with one man on in the third.

Matty Alou tagged three hits, drove in two runs and scored a pair as Pittsburgh ended Cincinnati's seven-game winning streak.

Alou's three hits boosted his average to .333, 10 points behind NL leader Pete Rose, who had 1-for-4. Rose's ninth-inning triple extended his batting streak to 10 games.

Bill Mazeroski drove in three Pirate runs with single and a triple and Tony Perez had a two-run homer for the Reds.

Willie Smith's second home run of the game gave Chicago its 10-inning victory over Atlanta. Smith, who had a three-run shot in the first inning, connected with two out in the 10th after the Cubs had tied the game on a pair of errors and Glenn Beckert's sacrifice fly in the ninth.

Pitcher Phil Niekro had a three-run homer for the Braves and his kid brother, Joe, was Chicago's winning pitcher in relief.

Giles Clears Regan In Vaseline Incident

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs and relief ace Phil Regan are satisfied, but National League President Warren Giles might have picked up a king sized headache over the illegal pitch incident.

Giles met with Durocher, Regan and John Holland, vice president of the Cubs, Tuesday and then issued a statement absolving Regan of any wrong doing in Sunday's hassle over illegal pitches.

Umpire Chris Pelekoudas called illegal pitches on Regan during the first game of a doubleheader with Cincinnati. Pelekoudas said he couldn't find any evidence on the ball but he was sure a foreign substance was being used by Regan after seeing the flight of the ball.

"A sinker spins when it breaks," said Pelekoudas. "And a ball with Vaseline on it breaks down without a spin."

Durocher and two other Cubs were thrown out of the game following heated arguments, and Regan had his head, face and the sweat band of his cap wiped off by Umpire Shag Crawford.

The Cubs demanded a hearing.

Giles, in absolving Regan, said "I know Phil and have respect for him and felt a gentleman like he should be shown the consideration and courtesy of hearing him.

"Phil told me he did not have Vaseline or other lubricant on his sweat band and I believe him," said Giles.

"Chris Pelekoudas suspected he did have lubricant of some kind, but told me his judgment of an illegal pitch was based almost entirely on the action on the ball in flight, and seems convinced it acted like a so-called spit ball."

"This is a most difficult problem for the umpires and they are being urged on all sides to enforce violators of illegal pitches."

Giles said he would talk to the Crawford umpiring crew when the umpires arrive in Cincinnati later this week. The other members of the crew are Doug Harvey and John Kibler.

Giles said he would confer with them and other umpiring crews as to "how is the best way to handle this perplexing problem—uniformity in enforcement is very desirable."

Giles said he had not talked to the umpires and had not issued any new instructions such as telling the umpires to cease the practice initiated by Pelekoudas of calling illegal pitches because of the flight of the ball.

However, it seemed the umpires got the message merely by the presence of Giles in Chicago. Regan worked during the sixth and seventh innings of Tuesday's game and went through his usual motions and pitched as he always has. This time no illegal pitches were called and Crawford was behind the plate.

Hiller Hurls One-Hitter, McLain Beaten In Second

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

A strong young arm has put some zip into Detroit's pennant push. But the Tigers would be a lot happier today if it belonged to Denny McLain.

John Hiller, a second-year southpaw who hadn't been to the winner's circle in two months, pitched a one-hitter Tuesday night as the American League leaders whipped Chicago 7-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

The White Sox then kayoed arm-weary McLain, Detroit's brilliant 25-game winner, with a nine-run blitz in taking the nightcap 10-2. The setback ended a seven-game winning string for McLain, 25-4, whose powerful right arm apparently is beginning to feel the strain of 261 innings' work.

"I had so little I couldn't finesse the ball," said the Tigers' ace after being cuffed for nine hits, including Pete Ward's grand slam homer, in the 5 2-3 innings he lasted. "I threw as hard as I have all year in the Boston game (his previous start). Tonight, I couldn't make a pitch."

McLain denied a report he had torn a muscle in his pitching arm, but admitted to a minor muscular irritation. "What I mean by that is it's strained," the 24-year-old fireballer explained. "It's something I've had for two or three years. But I can still pitch every four days."

The doubleheader split increased the Tigers' edge over second-place Baltimore to seven games.

The Orioles bowed to California 7-2 as Rick Clark and Clyde Wright flipped a combined one-hitter. The New York Yankees beat Minnesota 5-0 behind Mel Stottlemyre, Cleveland nipped Boston 2-1 for Sam McDowell and Oakland divided a twin bill with Washington, taking the nightcap 4-3 on Danny Cater's ninth inning homer after a 7-5 loss.

Hiller, who set a major league mark by striking out the first six batters he faced in Detroit's 2-1, 17-inning victory over Cleveland two weeks ago, nailed his first victory since June 14 by limiting the White Sox to a fifth-inning single by Ron Hansen. The 25-year-old Canadian walked two and struck out seven on the way to his sixth victory in nine decisions.

Gates Brown drove in two runs with a single and his fourth homer and Mickey Stanley delivered a pair with a bases-loaded single.

Shoddy fielding contributed to McLain's demise in the nightcap. Seven of the nine runs off him were unearned, the result of four Detroit errors—two of them by Al Kaline.

Gerry McNertney, McLain's one-time batterymate before Denny was traded from the Chicago organization to Detroit five years ago, drove in four runs with the first three of his four straight hits. Ward cleared the bases in the sixth with his 13th homer, finishing the Detroit star.

Wright pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless relief after a hit batsman, two walks, Mark Belanger's single and a passed ball by Tom Satriano gave the Orioles two runs off Clark in the third. Jim Fregosi's three-run double capped a five-run California burst in the fourth.

Stottlemyre flipped a four-hitter and Andy Kosco drove in three runs with a single and his 13th homer, leading the Yankees past the Twins.

Stottlemyre, 16-10, permitted only one runner to reach second on the way to his sixth shutout.

A strong young arm has put some zip into Detroit's pennant push. But the Tigers would be a lot happier today if it belonged to Denny McLain.

John Hiller, a second-year southpaw who hadn't been to the winner's circle in two months, pitched a one-hitter Tuesday night as the American League leaders whipped Chicago 7-0 in the opener of a doubleheader.

The White Sox then kayoed arm-weary McLain, Detroit's brilliant 25-game winner, with a nine-run blitz in taking the nightcap 10-2. The setback ended a seven-game winning string for McLain, 25-4, whose powerful right arm apparently is beginning to feel the strain of 261 innings' work.

"I had so little I couldn't finesse the ball," said the Tigers' ace after being cuffed for nine hits, including Pete Ward's grand slam homer, in the 5 2-3 innings he lasted. "I threw as hard as I have all year in the Boston game (his previous start). Tonight, I couldn't make a pitch."

McLain denied a report he had torn a muscle in his pitching arm, but admitted to a minor muscular irritation. "What I mean by that is it's strained," the 24-year-old fireballer explained. "It's something I've had for two or three years. But I can still pitch every four days."

The doubleheader split increased the Tigers' edge over second-place Baltimore to seven games.

The Orioles bowed to California 7-2 as Rick Clark and Clyde Wright flipped a combined one-hitter. The New York Yankees beat Minnesota 5-0 behind Mel Stottlemyre, Cleveland nipped Boston 2-1 for Sam McDowell and Oakland divided a twin bill with Washington, taking the nightcap 4-3 on Danny Cater's ninth inning homer after a 7-5 loss.

Hiller, who set a major league mark by striking out the first six batters he faced in Detroit's 2-1, 17-inning victory over Cleveland two weeks ago, nailed his first victory since June 14 by limiting the White Sox to a fifth-inning single by Ron Hansen. The 25-year-old Canadian walked two and struck out seven on the way to his sixth victory in nine decisions.

Gates Brown drove in two runs with a single and his fourth homer and Mickey Stanley delivered a pair with a bases-loaded single.

Shoddy fielding contributed to McLain's demise in the nightcap. Seven of the nine runs off him were unearned, the result of four Detroit errors—two of them by Al Kaline.

Gerry McNertney, McLain's one-time batterymate before Denny was traded from the Chicago organization to Detroit five years ago, drove in four runs with the first three of his four straight hits. Ward cleared the bases in the sixth with his 13th homer, finishing the Detroit star.

Wright pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless relief after a hit batsman, two walks, Mark Belanger's single and a passed ball by Tom Satriano gave the Orioles two runs off Clark in the third. Jim Fregosi's three-run double capped a five-run California burst in the fourth.

Stottlemyre flipped a four-hitter and Andy Kosco drove in three runs with a single and his 13th homer, leading the Yankees past the Twins.

Coach Hornick Has Inexperienced West Beaver Team

Team Training At Raccoon Park

The thermometer in downtown Midland Monday afternoon read 90 degrees, but it seemed 20 degrees cooler in the remote area of Raccoon State Park where the Western Beaver High football team was in training camp.

Nevertheless, head coach Mike Hornick, his assistants and the 55 players were covered with sweat as they came off the field at the conclusion of practice.

Football camp is something new for the Industry area school, in only its third year of inter-scholastic football. The accent is on youth, from the young, mostly new coaching staff, to the 33 freshmen (Western has no junior high football) and sophomores on the squad.

Hornick, a native of New Brighton and a gridder there and at Geneva College, is taking on his first head coaching job after being an assistant at New Brighton. He has a two-year contract and regards the job as a real challenge. He is quite pleased that things worked out so that the team could go to camp. Midland was to use the camp, but at the last minute decided not to, so Western Beaver, with both the boosters club and the school board contributing money, took advantage of the situation. The players stay in cabins of about six boys each, the coaches have their own cabin, and the squad eats together in a large dining hall. Among the rolling hills and forests of the park there is a level open space that serves as a practice field.

MEMBERS OF THE boosters club prepare breakfast for the squad and football mothers come in during the day to prepare the other meals and also bring cakes and cookies. The squad will leave camp at the end of this week and practice at Western Beaver.

The only holdover coach from Dan Sekeres' staff of last season is Fred Latherow, who played football at Freedom High and Thiel College and has his masters from Westminster. He has been coaching at Western since the school started football. Two years ago the Golden Beavers went 2-7 and last year improved to 4-5, winning the MAC Class B title. Their goal this season is a winning record. "Installing a winning tradition is a big objective" Hornick says.

The other assistants are John Hermick, who played football at Rochester High and Youngstown U. and taught and coached at East Liverpool last year; Joe Ginocchi, a native of New Castle, graduate of St. Vincent College and a former coach at Clearwater (Fla.) Catholic; and Don Lenz, a resident of the Western Beaver area who graduated from Latrobe High and Indiana (Pa.) U.

The Golden Beavers have only eight lettermen returning, and lack of experience will be one of the problems the coaches have to face. The offense will be a multiple T with a lot of passing and the defense basically a six-man line.

JOHN PETCHEL shared the quarterback position with graduated Joe Rasillo last season, and the 6-0, 170 senior letterman will be at the spot again, although he has competition from 5-11, 160 junior Barry Dawson. Petchel may also play halfback. Howard Gutherie, 5-11, 165, and John Tenerelli, 5-11, 160 are senior lettermen halfbacks, and juniors Tim Carland, 5-9, 165 and Thorning Little, 5-10, 150 are also fighting for spots in the backfield. Sophomore halfbacks Ty Jerret and Bob Petchel are called "promising". Stephen Elko, a 5-8, 145 senior letterman, will be used as a defensive halfback. Hornick plans little platooning, at least until some of the younger players get more experience.

Senior letterman Chuck Barrickman, 6-1, 190, seems set at center, with senior Bob Benek, 6-1, 165 backing up. There are no lettermen ends, with senior Eli Rakas, 6-1, 165; junior Phil Lacey, 6-1, 175, and sophomores Bill Ondra, 6-3, 175 and Dan Turner, 5-8, 140 the main candidates for the post. Lettermen Bill Jerret, a 5-7, 170 senior, and Dave McCreery, a 6-0, 195 junior, are tackles, with Walter (Marty) Shuffert, a 5-9, 240 junior, pushing for a spot. Shuffert is the only man on the squad to top 200 pounds. Letterman junior Gary Gibson, 5-11, 155 is running at one guard spot and Mark Fischer, a 5-6, 150 senior, is at the other guard position.

THE SCHEDULE opens with big rival Midland on the Leopards' field Sept. 6 at 8 p.m. All Western Beaver home games are at Midland's field. Other county opponents are Center Twp. and South Side Beaver. New opponents are Homestead, Monaca and Wellsville.

Jurgenson Injury Clouds Washington Grid Outlook

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sonny Jurgensen, who tossed 508 passes last year in rewriting National Football League records, has yet to throw a single pass in actual play this year.

Bobby Mitchell, the NFL's top throwing target among active players with 507 career catches, isn't going to be a pass catcher this season.

In those two factors probably lies the fate of the Washington Redskins this fall.

Jurgensen is nursing a rubbery right elbow after an operation in May to remove a painful calcium deposit. Despite the cheerful predictions of physicians, the elbow has yet to snap off the sharp passes of the past.

"I don't have any strength yet. And strength is 25 per cent of passing as far as I'm concerned," said Jurgensen, who has been sitting on the sidelines in preseason games.

Coach Otto Graham insisted, "I'll worry about it if the time comes and he can't play."

Graham has been concentrating his worries instead on a weak running game and a leaky pass defense that got much of the blame for last year's mediocre 5-6-3 record. He has traded away half the defensive backfield to try to patch one problem. He is returning Mitchell to running back to try to cure the other.

Mitchell, who has gained almost 8,000 yards on passes during 10 years, was such an explosive runner for Cleveland several seasons ago that he still ranks among the NFL's active rushing leaders. But a similar experiment at halfback last year had lackluster results and was abandoned after six games.

Last year, with Jurgensen setting NFL records with 288 completions for 3,747 yards, the Redskin receivers—Charley Taylor, Jerry Smith and Mitchell—ranked a phenomenal 1-2-4 in the league in catches. But the rushing attack wound up 15th of 16 clubs.

This year Graham has moved Smith, who has great hands but never was a sturdy blocker, from tight end to flanker to replace Mitchell. All-pro Taylor remains at split end. The Redskins picked up Marlin McKeever from Minnesota to fill the vcancy at tight end, although reserve Pat Richter is battling him for the starting spot.

Beban, who the Redskins signed for an estimated $200,000 when the Los Angeles Rams wouldn't pay that price, is slated to be an expensive understudy this year.

Washington used its own top draft choice for rangy cornerback Jim Smith of Oregon and acquired two veteran St. Louis defensive backs, trading for Jim Burson and signing Pat Fischer after he played out his option.

Washington also signed standout guard John Wooten of Cleveland after the Browns released him following an alleged racial snub at a golf outing. The Redskin offensive line, built around center Len Hauss, is filled by veterans, as is the defensive line.

Soccer-style kicker Charlie Gogolak, who missed virtually all of last season with a leg injury, is back in good form and that should add a considerable boot to the fortunes of a team that had 11 straight games decided in the final two minutes last year—six of them either ties or losses or less than a touchdown's difference.

Dolphins Have Flu

Packers Worried Over Exhibition Failures

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion Green Bay Packers were looking for the reasons they've lost two consecutive exhibition games after opening the season with a decision over the College All-Stars.

"I don't know what the real answer is, but we have several ideas," rookie coach Phil Bengtson said Tuesday after viewing films of Monday's 10-7 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't alert," he said.

"So far, we've been lacking that spark.

"Our running game hasn't got going yet."

And while he was going over his problems, the man who replaced Vince Lombardi as coach looked ahead to Saturday, when the Packers travel to Dallas to play the Cowboys.

"Oh, boy!" he said. "I guess they've been waiting for us ever since we beat them in the title game."

In Florida, the Miami Dolphins, several of them on the mend from a mild attack of flu, went back to work today in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with Boston.

Coach George Wilson cut the Dolphins' practice to 50 minutes Tuesday when several players, including flanker Howard Twilley and center Tom Goode, said they weren't feeling well.

Barring further illness, Wilson said 47 players would make the trip to Jacksonville for the game with Boston.

And it might take an epidemic to ruin their chances. Boston, as usual, has yet to win in two exhibition outings and has a total of only six points to show for games against New Orleans and the New York Jets.

In fact, Boston has pro football's over-all worst record in preseason play, with coach Mike Holovak using those games for experiments with personnel.

Wilson said he expected to use quarterback Kim Hammond for three quarters, with Bob Griese working the final period.

Boston, meanwhile, placed veteran receiver Jim Colclough on injured waivers. Colclough, a 10-year veteran, has been hampered by a bad back.

Patriot rookie John Outlaw, a promising speedster who was seeking a berth as either a running back or defensive back, also was placed on injured waivers. He will undergo knee surgery today and will be lost to the team for about eight weeks.

Their game is one of four scheduled Friday. The others include another National-American Football League matchup, with San Francisco visiting Denver. Baltimore is at Detroit and Buffalo plays Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in the other.

In other training camp action, Milt Plum, the reserve quarterback acquired by Los Angeles from Detroit, was named to start the Rams' Saturday game in San Diego.

Coach George Allen said Plum will work the first half with regular Roman Gabriel playing the last half.

Bengals Cut Five Players; Face Steelers

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals cut five players from the squad Tuesday to bring the roster number down to 59.

Other cuts included fullback Bill Bailey, kickers Mike Clemons and Red Keeling and end James Smith.

Brown said either Dewey Warren or newcomer Charley Greene would start at quarterback against Pittsburgh Sunday in an exhibition contest at Morgantown, W. Va.

Veteran quarterback John Stofa has been sidelined with a knee injury but might see limited action Sunday.

Tim Tam's Son Running In Derby

Cleveland Men Bidding For ABA Franchise

CLEVELAND (AP) — The $650,000 required to bid for a Cleveland franchise in the American Basketball Association has been raised by a group of 15 businessmen, a member of the group said Tuesday.

Lawrence Schmelzer said the money is in the hands of league officials and that the group hopes to win the franchise in time for the ABA season which open in October.

The group also includes two of Schmelzer's brothers, Raymond of Cleveland and Jerry of Columbus. The three brothers are major stockholders in the Columbus Checkers hockey club.

10 Lettermen Return

Crestview Has New Coach, Former Assistant Grekis

Crestview High School posted a 6-3 mark in football in 1967, but new coach Ernest Grekis, who was an assistant under Dick Scarborough last season, thinks the 1968 edition will have to really hustle to match that record.

Grekis has two new assistants, Don Kaiser from Greenford, who will also be the head basketball coach at Crestview, and John Dunlap, who is a native of East Palestine but who has been coaching in California.

The Rebels have 10 lettermen back, including six starters. Grekis considers the offensive and defensive backfield the team's strong points. Big loss was randy McBride, but the rest of the starting backfield, 140-pound quarterback Dan Unger, 150-pound wingback Chip McConville and 165-pound halfback Joe Remish, return. All are seniors. Bob Ward, 155, also a senior letterman, will probably start at fullback. Dave Rankin, a senior defensive back, is also a letterman.

Will Tucker, a 185-pound senior who lettered as a defensive back last season, will be tried at offensive end this year. End is a weakness for the Rebels. The center of the line, all senior lettermen, returns. Tim Lindsay, 165, is at center and Dale Schmidt, 185, and Gary Hamilton, 170 are guards. Schmidt may be moved to tackle. The other tackle is junior letterman Jerry Anderson, 6-4, 240. Jim Peppel, 170, a junior, may move in at guard. Ralph Papania, 160, a junior, has the inside track for an end post. Chip Rupert, a 190-pound sophomore, is fighting for a tackle job, and cousin Mark Rupert, a junior, will see action in the backfield. Ken Robb, a junior, will play center on offense and end on defense.

There are 40 boys out for the squad, and Grekis notes the team lacks depth. The offense will be a wing-T or slot-I, and the defense a basic 4-4.

Grekis tabs McDonald, North Lima and perennial champ Mineral Ridge as the teams to be in the Inter-County League.

The schedule:

Sept. 7—Mineral Ridge*
Sept. 14—at Southington
Sept. 21—at Lowellville*
Sept. 28—North Lima*
Oct. 4—at McDonald*
Oct. 11—Jackson-Milton*
Oct. 19—at United
Oct. 25—at Western Reserve*
Oct. 31—Greenford*
*Inter-County League Games

Tournaments Will Close To Rebels

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Golfers joining the new American Professional Golfers organization will be barred from participation in Professional Golfers' Association tournaments, the president of the PGA warned Tuesday night.

Max Elbin told about 70 pros: "You can't belong to two organizations. You either belong to the PGA or forget it" as far as tournament competition goes.

Elbin made his comments at Whitemarsh Valley County Club, site of Thursday's $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic. However, the ruling will not apply for the Philadelphia tourney.

Later this month, Elbin said, the PGA will issue new entry blanks for tournaments. Those refusing to sign the new blanks, which apparently would include a statement saying the golfer did not belong to any other player's organization, would be banned from PGA play, Elbin said.

Formation of the APG was announced Monday in New York by 13 touring pros who identified themselves as the new group's organizing committee.

The planet Jupiter has belts of different colors across it.

Van Dillen Upsets Pasarell

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The kids are stealing the show from the seeded stars in the U.S. National Tennis Championships, but they have a long way to go in the 88th annual tournament at Longwood.

Unheralded Mike Estep, 19, of Dallas, won the applause Sunday by upsetting Ron Holmberg, the No. 6 American seed. Then, 24 hours later, young Sherwood Stewart of Baytown,, Tex., came close before losing to second-seeded Clark Graebner in five sets.

Erik Van Dillen, a 17-year-old senior at Burlingame, Calif., High School, took the cue Tuesday and turned in a stunning upset by ousting Charlie Pasarell, America's top-ranked player, 6-4, 4-6, 8-10, 6-3, 6-4 in a third-round match.

Even Van Dillen was stunned by his victory. He was weak and appeared shaken for some time after the match.

Despite his No. 1 ranking by the USLTA, based on 1967 play, Pasarell was seeded third behind Davis Cup teammates Arthur Ashe and Graebner.

Team Training At Raccoon Park

The thermometer in downtown Midland Monday afternoon read 90 degrees, but it seemed 20 degrees cooler in the remote area of Raccoon State Park where the Western Beaver High football team was in training camp.

Nevertheless, head coach Mike Hornick, his assistants and the 55 players were covered with sweat as they came off the field at the conclusion of practice.

Football camp is something new for the Industry area school, in only its third year of inter-scholastic football. The accent is on youth, from the young, mostly new coaching staff, to the 33 freshmen (Western has no junior high football) and sophomores on the squad.

Hornick, a native of New Brighton and a gridder there and at Geneva College, is taking on his first head coaching job after being an assistant at New Brighton. He has a two-year contract and regards the job as a real challenge. He is quite pleased that things worked out so that the team could go to camp. Midland was to use the camp, but at the last minute decided not to, so Western Beaver, with both the boosters club and the school board contributing money, took advantage of the situation. The players stay in cabins of about six boys each, the coaches have their own cabin, and the squad eats together in a large dining hall. Among the rolling hills and forests of the park there is a level open space that serves as a practice field.

MEMBERS OF THE boosters club prepare breakfast for the squad and football mothers come in during the day to prepare the other meals and also bring cakes and cookies. The squad will leave camp at the end of this week and practice at Western Beaver.

The only holdover coach from Dan Sekeres' staff of last season is Fred Latherow, who played football at Freedom High and Thiel College and has his masters from Westminster. He has been coaching at Western since the school started football. Two years ago the Golden Beavers went 2-7 and last year improved to 4-5, winning the MAC Class B title. Their goal this season is a winning record. "Installing a winning tradition is a big objective" Hornick says.

The other assistants are John Hermick, who played football at Rochester High and Youngstown U. and taught and coached at East Liverpool last year; Joe Ginocchi, a native of New Castle, graduate of St. Vincent College and a former coach at Clearwater (Fla.) Catholic; and Don Lenz, a resident of the Western Beaver area who graduated from Latrobe High and Indiana (Pa.) U.

The Golden Beavers have only eight lettermen returning, and lack of experience will be one of the problems the coaches have to face. The offense will be a multiple T with a lot of passing and the defense basically a six-man line.

JOHN PETCHEL shared the quarterback position with graduated Joe Rasillo last season, and the 6-0, 170 senior letterman will be at the spot again, although he has competition from 5-11, 160 junior Barry Dawson. Petchel may also play halfback. Howard Gutherie, 5-11, 165, and John Tenerelli, 5-11, 160 are senior lettermen halfbacks, and juniors Tim Carland, 5-9, 165 and Thorning Little, 5-10, 150 are also fighting for spots in the backfield. Sophomore halfbacks Ty Jerret and Bob Petchel are called "promising". Stephen Elko, a 5-8, 145 senior letterman, will be used as a defensive halfback. Hornick plans little platooning, at least until some of the younger players get more experience.

Senior letterman Chuck Barrickman, 6-1, 190, seems set at center, with senior Bob Benek, 6-1, 165 backing up. There are no lettermen ends, with senior Eli Rakas, 6-1, 165; junior Phil Lacey, 6-1, 175, and sophomores Bill Ondra, 6-3, 175 and Dan Turner, 5-8, 140 the main candidates for the post. Lettermen Bill Jerret, a 5-7, 170 senior, and Dave McCreery, a 6-0, 195 junior, are tackles, with Walter (Marty) Shuffert, a 5-9, 240 junior, pushing for a spot. Shuffert is the only man on the squad to top 200 pounds. Letterman junior Gary Gibson, 5-11, 155 is running at one guard spot and Mark Fischer, a 5-6, 150 senior, is at the other guard position.

THE SCHEDULE opens with big rival Midland on the Leopards' field Sept. 6 at 8 p.m. All Western Beaver home games are at Midland's field. Other county opponents are Center Twp. and South Side Beaver. New opponents are Homestead, Monaca and Wellsville.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sonny Jurgensen, who tossed 508 passes last year in rewriting National Football League records, has yet to throw a single pass in actual play this year.

Bobby Mitchell, the NFL's top throwing target among active players with 507 career catches, isn't going to be a pass catcher this season.

In those two factors probably lies the fate of the Washington Redskins this fall.

Jurgensen is nursing a rubbery right elbow after an operation in May to remove a painful calcium deposit. Despite the cheerful predictions of physicians, the elbow has yet to snap off the sharp passes of the past.

"I don't have any strength yet. And strength is 25 per cent of passing as far as I'm concerned," said Jurgensen, who has been sitting on the sidelines in preseason games.

Coach Otto Graham insisted, "I'll worry about it if the time comes and he can't play."

Graham has been concentrating his worries instead on a weak running game and a leaky pass defense that got much of the blame for last year's mediocre 5-6-3 record. He has traded away half the defensive backfield to try to patch one problem. He is returning Mitchell to running back to try to cure the other.

Mitchell, who has gained almost 8,000 yards on passes during 10 years, was such an explosive runner for Cleveland several seasons ago that he still ranks among the NFL's active rushing leaders. But a similar experiment at halfback last year had lackluster results and was abandoned after six games.

Last year, with Jurgensen setting NFL records with 288 completions for 3,747 yards, the Redskin receivers—Charley Taylor, Jerry Smith and Mitchell—ranked a phenomenal 1-2-4 in the league in catches. But the rushing attack wound up 15th of 16 clubs.

This year Graham has moved Smith, who has great hands but never was a sturdy blocker, from tight end to flanker to replace Mitchell. All-pro Taylor remains at split end. The Redskins picked up Marlin McKeever from Minnesota to fill the vcancy at tight end, although reserve Pat Richter is battling him for the starting spot.

Beban, who the Redskins signed for an estimated $200,000 when the Los Angeles Rams wouldn't pay that price, is slated to be an expensive understudy this year.

Washington used its own top draft choice for rangy cornerback Jim Smith of Oregon and acquired two veteran St. Louis defensive backs, trading for Jim Burson and signing Pat Fischer after he played out his option.

Washington also signed standout guard John Wooten of Cleveland after the Browns released him following an alleged racial snub at a golf outing. The Redskin offensive line, built around center Len Hauss, is filled by veterans, as is the defensive line.

Soccer-style kicker Charlie Gogolak, who missed virtually all of last season with a leg injury, is back in good form and that should add a considerable boot to the fortunes of a team that had 11 straight games decided in the final two minutes last year—six of them either ties or losses or less than a touchdown's difference.

Packers Worried Over Exhibition Failures

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The world champion Green Bay Packers were looking for the reasons they've lost two consecutive exhibition games after opening the season with a decision over the College All-Stars.

"I don't know what the real answer is, but we have several ideas," rookie coach Phil Bengtson said Tuesday after viewing films of Monday's 10-7 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"We weren't alert," he said.

"So far, we've been lacking that spark.

"Our running game hasn't got going yet."

And while he was going over his problems, the man who replaced Vince Lombardi as coach looked ahead to Saturday, when the Packers travel to Dallas to play the Cowboys.

"Oh, boy!" he said. "I guess they've been waiting for us ever since we beat them in the title game."

In Florida, the Miami Dolphins, several of them on the mend from a mild attack of flu, went back to work today in preparation for Friday's exhibition game with Boston.

Coach George Wilson cut the Dolphins' practice to 50 minutes Tuesday when several players, including flanker Howard Twilley and center Tom Goode, said they weren't feeling well.

Barring further illness, Wilson said 47 players would make the trip to Jacksonville for the game with Boston.

And it might take an epidemic to ruin their chances. Boston, as usual, has yet to win in two exhibition outings and has a total of only six points to show for games against New Orleans and the New York Jets.

In fact, Boston has pro football's over-all worst record in preseason play, with coach Mike Holovak using those games for experiments with personnel.

Wilson said he expected to use quarterback Kim Hammond for three quarters, with Bob Griese working the final period.

Boston, meanwhile, placed veteran receiver Jim Colclough on injured waivers. Colclough, a 10-year veteran, has been hampered by a bad back.

Patriot rookie John Outlaw, a promising speedster who was seeking a berth as either a running back or defensive back, also was placed on injured waivers. He will undergo knee surgery today and will be lost to the team for about eight weeks.

Their game is one of four scheduled Friday. The others include another National-American Football League matchup, with San Francisco visiting Denver. Baltimore is at Detroit and Buffalo plays Houston at Tulsa, Okla., in the other.

In other training camp action, Milt Plum, the reserve quarterback acquired by Los Angeles from Detroit, was named to start the Rams' Saturday game in San Diego.

Coach George Allen said Plum will work the first half with regular Roman Gabriel playing the last half.

Bengals Cut Five Players; Face Steelers

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals cut five players from the squad Tuesday to bring the roster number down to 59.

Brown said either Dewey Warren or newcomer Charley Greene would start at quarterback against Pittsburgh Sunday in an exhibition contest at Morgantown, W. Va.

Veteran quarterback John Stofa has been sidelined with a knee injury but might see limited action Sunday.

Cleveland Men Bidding For ABA Franchise

CLEVELAND (AP) — The $650,000 required to bid for a Cleveland franchise in the American Basketball Association has been raised by a group of 15 businessmen, a member of the group said Tuesday.

Lawrence Schmelzer said the money is in the hands of league officials and that the group hopes to win the franchise in time for the ABA season which open in October.

The group also includes two of Schmelzer's brothers, Raymond of Cleveland and Jerry of Columbus. The three brothers are major stockholders in the Columbus Checkers hockey club.

10 Lettermen Return

Crestview Has New Coach, Former Assistant Grekis

Crestview High School posted a 6-3 mark in football in 1967, but new coach Ernest Grekis, who was an assistant under Dick Scarborough last season, thinks the 1968 edition will have to really hustle to match that record.

Grekis has two new assistants, Don Kaiser from Greenford, who will also be the head basketball coach at Crestview, and John Dunlap, who is a native of East Palestine but who has been coaching in California.

The Rebels have 10 lettermen back, including six starters. Grekis considers the offensive and defensive backfield the team's strong points. Big loss was randy McBride, but the rest of the starting backfield, 140-pound quarterback Dan Unger, 150-pound wingback Chip McConville and 165-pound halfback Joe Remish, return. All are seniors. Bob Ward, 155, also a senior letterman, will probably start at fullback. Dave Rankin, a senior defensive back, is also a letterman.

Will Tucker, a 185-pound senior who lettered as a defensive back last season, will be tried at offensive end this year. End is a weakness for the Rebels. The center of the line, all senior lettermen, returns. Tim Lindsay, 165, is at center and Dale Schmidt, 185, and Gary Hamilton, 170 are guards. Schmidt may be moved to tackle. The other tackle is junior letterman Jerry Anderson, 6-4, 240. Jim Peppel, 170, a junior, may move in at guard. Ralph Papania, 160, a junior, has the inside track for an end post. Chip Rupert, a 190-pound sophomore, is fighting for a tackle job, and cousin Mark Rupert, a junior, will see action in the backfield. Ken Robb, a junior, will play center on offense and end on defense.

There are 40 boys out for the squad, and Grekis notes the team lacks depth. The offense will be a wing-T or slot-I, and the defense a basic 4-4.

Grekis tabs McDonald, North Lima and perennial champ Mineral Ridge as the teams to be in the Inter-County League.

The schedule:

|---|---|
| Sept. 7 | Mineral Ridge* |
| Sept. 14 | at Southington |
| Sept. 21 | at Lowellville* |
| Sept. 28 | North Lima* |

Tournaments Will Close To Rebels

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Golfers joining the new American Professional Golfers organization will be barred from participation in Professional Golfers' Association tournaments, the president of the PGA warned Tuesday night.

Max Elbin told about 70 pros: "You can't belong to two organizations. You either belong to the PGA or forget it" as far as tournament competition goes.

Elbin made his comments at Whitemarsh Valley County Club, site of Thursday's $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic. However, the ruling will not apply for the Philadelphia tourney.

Later this month, Elbin said, the PGA will issue new entry blanks for tournaments. Those refusing to sign the new blanks, which apparently would include a statement saying the golfer did not belong to any other player's organization, would be banned from PGA play, Elbin said.

Formation of the APG was announced Monday in New York by 13 touring pros who identified themselves as the new group's organizing committee.

Van Dillen Upsets Pasarell

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The kids are stealing the show from the seeded stars in the U.S. National Tennis Championships, but they have a long way to go in the 88th annual tournament at Longwood.

Unheralded Mike Estep, 19, of Dallas, won the applause Sunday by upsetting Ron Holmberg, the No. 6 American seed. Then, 24 hours later, young Sherwood Stewart of Baytown,, Tex., came close before losing to second-seeded Clark Graebner in five sets.

Erik Van Dillen, a 17-year-old senior at Burlingame, Calif., High School, took the cue Tuesday and turned in a stunning upset by ousting Charlie Pasarell, America's top-ranked player, 6-4, 4-6, 8-10, 6-3, 6-4 in a third-round match.

Even Van Dillen was stunned by his victory. He was weak and appeared shaken for some time after the match.

Despite his No. 1 ranking by the USLTA, based on 1967 play, Pasarell was seeded third behind Davis Cup teammates Arthur Ashe and Graebner.

Laguna Wins In Ninth, Marshall Tough Loser

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ismael Laguna, Antonio Amaya and Benny Briscoe were the winners of the three 10-round features at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

But today you could also make loser Lloyd Marshall a winner off his fine showing in the windup scrap with Laguna.

Although Laguna was leading 6-2 in rounds on the scorecards of all three officials, the 22-year-old Marshall had Laguna worried until referee Johnny Lo Bianco intervened in the ninth. Laguna had shot over three hard rights to the bleeding wound.

Marshall, a 2-1 underdog making his main event debut in the Garden, staggered his surprised foe with a jolting right to the jaw only seconds after the opening bell had sounded. He jarred Laguna again in the fifth but later in the round the cut opened wide on Marshall's eyebrow.

"I had him in the first round but I let him off the hook," said Marshall. "He boxed his way out of it because I was too anxious and missed."

Laguna, the No. 1 lightweight contender by Ring Magazine and No. 2 by the World Boxing Association, weighed 136 pounds to Marshall's 131½.

"We'd like to use Laguna, Amaya, Briscoe and Marshall again," said matchmaker Teddy Brenner. "They all put on a good show."

That they did for the 9,074 fans, including 500 up from Panama to see Laguna and Amaya, who paid $43,910.

Amaya, making his first start in the U.S., completely outboxed veteran light weight contender Frankie Narvaez in taking a lopsided, unanimous decision. The 22-year-old youngster, fast as an Olympic sprinter and quick-handed as a juggler, made the 27-year-old Puerto Rican look 10 years older with his dazzling speed. Each weighed 136.

Briscoe, 161, of Philadelphia, kept the pressure on Jose Gonzalez, 161, of New York all the way in gaining the unanimous decision in a fierce fight.

Dick Tiger Quits Biafra, Seeks Fight

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Dick Tiger is heading back to the United States for another crack at boxing greatness. But he does not rule out that one day he will be back in Biafra for another kind of combat—with a rifle in the bush.

A captain in the Biafran army, he spent the summer giving physical training to recruits now fighting the federalists in the Nigerian civil war.

He plans to fly to New York later this week to try and arrange a return match with Bob Foster, to whom he lost the light-heavyweight title by a knockout last May 24.

"My mind wasn't on that fight," Tiger said Tuesday. "I was worrying about the war."

He said if he does not get the return match he will fight other contenders until he gets a shot at the title.

"If I get the fight, win or lose I'm going back to down there (Biafra). It's my home. I was born there and I want to die there," he said.

He said he was taking a leave from the army to return to boxing "because it is the business I know."

Monongahela Eliminated In Series

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Four new teams swing in tonight and one is out in the Pony League World Series.

The champions of the four continental U.S. divisions — Houston, Covina, Calif., Greensboro, N.C., and St. Clair Shores, Mich. make their first appearances tonight in the eight team, double-elimination tournament for boys 13 and 14.

The other American mainland entry, host Monongahela, Pa., was eliminated Tuesday in an 8-1 loss to Maui, Hawaii.

Caracas, Venezuela, ran its record to 2-0 by dumping Victoria, Canada, 7-2 in Tuesday's other game.

Maui broke a 1-1 tie with three runs in the sixth inning, helped by three Monongahela errors. Monongahela's lone run came on a fourth-inning homer by Gary Lee.

Laguna Wins In Ninth, Marshall Tough Loser

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ismael Laguna, Antonio Amaya and Benny Briscoe were the winners of the three 10-round features at Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

But today you could also make loser Lloyd Marshall a winner off his fine showing in the windup scrap with Laguna.

Although Laguna was leading 6-2 in rounds on the scorecards of all three officials, the 22-year-old Marshall had Laguna worried until referee Johnny Lo Bianco intervened in the ninth. Laguna had shot over three hard rights to the bleeding wound.

Marshall, a 2-1 underdog making his main event debut in the Garden, staggered his surprised foe with a jolting right to the jaw only seconds after the opening bell had sounded. He jarred Laguna again in the fifth but later in the round the cut opened wide on Marshall's eyebrow.

"I had him in the first round but I let him off the hook," said Marshall. "He boxed his way out of it because I was too anxious and missed."

Laguna, the No. 1 lightweight contender by Ring Magazine and No. 2 by the World Boxing Association, weighed 136 pounds to Marshall's 131½.

"We'd like to use Laguna, Amaya, Briscoe and Marshall again," said matchmaker Teddy Brenner. "They all put on a good show."

That they did for the 9,074 fans, including 500 up from Panama to see Laguna and Amaya, who paid $43,910.

Amaya, making his first start in the U.S., completely outboxed veteran light weight contender Frankie Narvaez in taking a lopsided, unanimous decision. The 22-year-old youngster, fast as an Olympic sprinter and quick-handed as a juggler, made the 27-year-old Puerto Rican look 10 years older with his dazzling speed. Each weighed 136.

Briscoe, 161, of Philadelphia, kept the pressure on Jose Gonzalez, 161, of New York all the way in gaining the unanimous decision in a fierce fight.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Conrad Deschesnef became so nervous before Canada's final Little League playoff game last week that he developed stomach cramps and was unable to play.

In the second opening-round contest, Richmond, Va., overpowered Terre Haute, Ind., 6-2, in a game called in the sixth inning because of rain. Little League contests are scheduled for seven innings.

time that the White House was receiving an Associated Press bulletin quoting Prague Radio as announcing that troops from the neighboring Communist states were crossing the Czech frontier.

Press Secretary George Christian said Johnson acted quickly to convene the NSC on the basis of information supplied by Dobrynin.

He declined to go into details, though, on the content of the envoy's message.

When the security council met, Christian said, Johnson and his advisors—including top military, diplomatic and intelligence officials—reviewed available information.

Johnson then directed Secretary of State Dean Rusk to summon Dobrynin to a late-night meeting at the State Department "to discuss the matter further."

Rusk and the ambassador subsequently met for about 10 minutes. No account of the meeting was given. Also present were George W. Ball, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and John Leddy, assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

In addition to his early hours meeting with Humphrey, Johnson kept in close contact with other key officials.

The move against the Czechs by hard-line Communists fearful of the reform regime in Prague caught the Pentagon by surprise. Officials said they knew of no special alert for the U.S. 7th Army in West Germany, 200,000 strong, but noted part of that army is always in a state of readiness.

Christian declined to say whether any alert had been issued.

When the security council met, Christian said, Johnson and his advisors—including top military, diplomatic and intelligence officials—reviewed available information.

Johnson then directed Secretary of State Dean Rusk to summon Dobrynin to a late-night meeting at the State Department "to discuss the matter further."

Rusk and the ambassador subsequently met for about 10 minutes. No account of the meeting was given. Also present were George W. Ball, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and John Leddy, assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

In addition to his early hours meeting with Humphrey, Johnson kept in close contact with other key officials.

The move against the Czechs by hard-line Communists fearful of the reform regime in Prague caught the Pentagon by surprise. Officials said they knew of no special alert for the U.S. 7th Army in West Germany, 200,000 strong, but noted part of that army is always in a state of readiness.

Christian declined to say whether any alert had been issued.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Doctoring The Dominoes

DEAR FOLKS: I want all of you to laugh with me today because I've got a whopper-of-a-tall - story to tell:

Heloise

We love to play dominoes. One weekend I broke my glasses and couldn't figure out how my husband was beating the socks off of me. (He always does anyway.)

The white dots on a black domino show up, but it finally dawned on me I couldn't tell which was the right side of the double blank! Also it was hard to look across the table and count the dominoes he still had in his hand. . .

Know what I did?

I QUIT PLAYING, spread the wooden dominoes face down on a newspaper and got a fizz can of fluorescent spray paint! And doggoned if I didn't spray the backs of the dominoes fluorescent red! only took about a minute to do it and a little can of this paint costs less than a dollar.

Later that night we played a game. You talk about being able to see at a glance how many dominoes he had left, how many were in the bone pile, and to know the double blank was face down was a great relief (though it didn't help my score any!).

We found this to be so fantastic that I got the other set of wooden dominoes out and sprayed them flourescent green! This way we do not get the two decks mixed together. Too, they are real easy to see when the light hits them. And if you drop one on the floor, no trouble at all finding it.

HERE'S HOW:

Don't do this to an expensive deck. (We play with the one-dollar-a-deck kind made from wood.) Don't put your dominoes together to spray "em. Be sure and space them at least an inch apart. This way a little bit of paint gets on the edges whereas if you put them together, the paint runs down and makes ugly marks on the side.

After you spray these inexpensive wooden dominoes, they immediately look like they are turning black again, but once the paint dries, they don't. The color comes back.

I just got to thinking . . . wouldn't this make a wonderful gift for those who are a little hard of seeing? And I bet they would sell like hotcakes with maple syrup at church bazaars.

I may have a few cobwebs in my hair, but now I can see if that double blank is facing me or my partner!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: For campers, or drive-in movie people with children who sleep in the car, a yard of nylon net and some magnets from the dime store let you keep your car windows down, the breeze in, and the bugs out.

MARY LOU HOGAN.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Your hint about putting a spring-type clothespin on your ignition key so as not to forget to turn off the fog or parking lights on a dark or rainy day was just wonderful! BUT, when the driver is so busy patting herself on the back that she locks the keys in the car while she's beaming at the clothespin that's been dutifully put back on the sun visor again . . . well, that's another thing!

What do I do now?

MRS. BENJAMIN WINTERS.

DEAR HELOISE: Naturally, I don't put corn husks or silks in my disposal. I usually drop both on a newspaper while husking the corn.

Today I took out a large paper sack, opened it, and put one side in a waist-high cabinet door. Then closed the door on the sack.

This left my hands free to husk the corn and drop the waste into the open sack.

When I had finished, I just opened the cabinet door, rolled up the sack and put it in the trash pail.

B.J.M.

DEAR HELOISE: A little tip for calorie-watchers who would like to use the low or no-calorie sweeteners but feel it leaves a bitter taste in coffee.

Just add a couple grains of real sugar.

I found this leaves no taste and has very few calories.

MRS. J. KISH.

Convention Delegates To Find Out

CHICAGO (AP) — When Democratic National Convention delegates come to Chicago this weekend they will find that some of the simple things of life have become complicated.

Take, for instance, the telephone.

Installers, who have been on strike against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. since May 8, agreed four weeks ago to put in television, teletype and telephone equipment. But only at the International Amphitheatre, the convention site, and only for handling news and official business.

In such a circumstance, the thinking delegate would turn to pay telephones to make personal calls. There are pay telephones scattered around the amphitheatre. But, as of Tuesday, they all were out of order.

Transportation? A strike by Local 777 of the Democratic Union Organizing Committee of the Seafarers International Union against the Yellow and Checker companies has taken three-fourths of the city's normal supply of 4,434 cabs off the streets.

The convention staff has arranged for private cars and has chartered buses to ferry delegates, officials and others among O'Hare International Airport, hotels and the amphitheatre.

But, apparently, if a delegate wants to taxi out of the Chicago area to visit kinfolk, he will have to whistle for a cab.

Of course, there's the Chicago Transit Authority's efficient network of buses and elevated and subway trains. But a group of dissident drivers has threatened a wildcat strike Sunday, the eve of the convention opening.

Tickets? Delegates won't have to worry about their own except that their credentials will be subject to a careful check before they enter the area that encompasses the amphitheatre. Tight security will be in force in the entire mile-square amphitheatre-stockyard district, five miles southwest of the city's main business district.

But they probably won't be able to get any tickets for people who are neither participants nor guests of the convention. Officials have said here are none for the general public—unless delegates can dip into their state's allotment.

If all the 3.5 million residents of Chicago wanted to go, the 10,000-seat hall would have to be filled and emptied 350 times.

If delegates get around, they probably will see many of the uninvited as well as the invited.

Two organizations have suits on file seeking to prevent officials from interfering with their plans for convention week.

The Youth International Committee—yippies—wants to conduct a "festival of life" in Lincoln Park. The other, the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, wants to hold rallies and to march Wednesday night to the convention hall. It also wants an o.k. to sleep in parks.

Unless the city provides space, the antiwar group said, "the streets will be filled with thousands of persons roaming aimlessly."

The weather? Chicagoans have sweat out a series of hot, humid spells this month. No change is in sight.

Patrol Prosecutions Bring Near $6 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud reported Tuesday that highway patrol prosecutions brought in almost 6 million in 1967 in fines and bond forfeitures.

The figure of $5 921,366 was a record, and up 24 per cent from the 1966 total.

The adult hippopotamus will weigh up to four tons.

Canton's Voters Okay Tax Boost

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Voters have approved a 50 per cent hike in Canton's city income tax by 1970.

The count in Tuesday's special election was 10,029 for and 7,087 against. The approval may have stopped a walkout of police and firemen. Some threatened to leave their jobs if the tax was not approved.

City officials said the tax hike was needed to give pay raises to all city employes and to add more equipment for safety forces.

The present one per cent tax will go to 1½ per cent in gradual steps by 1970.

The measure received 58.6 per cent approval and needed 55 per cent for passage because it was turned down last May.

Conditions Seen Ripe For Disease Outbreak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A researcher at the Ohio Department of Health's communicable diseases section said Tuesday that conditions are ripe in this state for an outbreak of California encephalitis.

Dr. Ralph A. Masterson said that the infectious disease, a kind of sleeping sickness, is the result of mosquito bites. The spring flooding this year and continuing heavy rainfall has led to an increase in the numbers of these insects.

ANN LANDERS

Bothered By Phone Calls

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My wife has been plagued by obscene phone calls for three weeks. We have notified the police and they say they can't do anything unless we can keep the caller on the line while someone alerts the police or the phone company.

Often the calls are made from public booths, so you see how hard it is to catch someone in the act.

My wife is on tranquilizers and losing weight. She asked me to write and ask if you know of an effective method of dealing with these nuts who have nothing better to do than call people and talk rotten. — MR. L. OF BOISE.

Dear Mr. L.: The best way to deal with an obscene phone call is to hang up immediately. This deprives the caller of the thing he wants most — an audience. If the caller is phoning from a booth he won't keep throwing dimes into the slot to hear the click of a receiver.

The person who is being harassed should never — repeat, never — express fear, disgust or anger. This will delight the caller and encourage him to keep calling. If the caller makes a threat of serious bodily harm the call should be reported to the police.

The Bell System is developing some amazing electronic equipment that automatically can set off an alarm in the central office and trace the caller.

I was surprised to learn from Joseph O'Brien of Illinois Bell that many harassing calls are from relatives, neighbors or acquaintances who bear a grudge.

Young Again

Dear Ann: You missed a good opportunity to educate your readers when the woman told about her friend who had lost 40 pounds and suddenly began to behave like a teen-ager. She wanted to know if there was any connection.

Many physicians are running into "diet pill psychosis." This type of personality change is associated with addiction to amphetamines. The public should be made aware of the problem. You can help. I hope you will do so. — J.H.B. (M.D OF SHARON, PA)

Dear Doctor: Thanks for your letter. My medical consultants agree that diet pill psychosis is a real danger to those who want to lose weight without the help of a physician.

Amphetamines (or pep pills) produce tension, accelerate the responses and promote impulsive behavior. No one should take these pills (or ANY pills, for that matter) without the approval of his physician.

Snore Job

Dear Ann: In a column which appeared some time ago there was a passing reference to a woman who strapped a bicycle horn around her husband'shead at night to keep him from snoring.

Will you please repeat the details, because my old goat has been keeping me up with his infernal snoring for the past three years and I'm willing to try anything.

Don't suggest separate bedrooms because I put him in another bedroom two years ago and he snores so loud I can hear him anyway. Please tell me the price of the horn and where I can purchase one. — NEED A NIGHT'S SLEEP.

Dear Need: I do not recommend the solution. Bicycle horns are for bicycles.

If your husband's snoring is as bad as you say, I suggest he go to a doctor. Minor surgery might solve the problem.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Blonde Swedish actress May Britt, after nearly eight years of marriage, is suing Sammy Davis Jr., for divorce.

A suit filed Tuesday in Santa Monica Superior Court said Davis "inflicted great anguish and mental suffering" upon her, causing illness and unhappiness.

The action came four days after Frank Sinatra, a close friend of Davis, was divorced by Mia Farrow at Juarez, Mexico. The Sinatras separated last October—two days before Davis, a Negro, and Miss Britt announced a parting of ways.

Miss Britt, who has lived in the couple's $320,000 Bel Air home since the separation, asked for division of the community property in "a just manner" and custody of their three children.

Neither Miss Britt, 33, nor Davis, 42, in London with the stage company of "Golden Boy," commented publicly about her divorce action.

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The Navy has promoted Edwin M. Rosenberg, who had stomach cancer three times, to rear admiral.

Rosenberg, 49, a plans officer with the Pacific Fleet at Pearl Harbor, was first stricken with cancer in the stomach and intestines in 1946 and was retired the following year by a Navy board.

In 1948, Rosenberg wrote to the Navy: "I'm well and wouldn't you like to employ me and get full value for your money instead of paying me and not getting anything."

It took a private bill in Congress to get him rehired. Four years later, while commanding the destroyer escort Blackwood, Rosenberg came down with cancer again. An operation and X-ray treatment followed, but he stayed in the Navy.

Several years later he was hospitalized again for cancer but returned to duty after three months.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Secretary of Commerce C. R. Smith said Monday he will leave the cabinet next January no matter who is elected president.

The former president and board chairman of American Airlines did not elaborate except to say he did not have any future plans.

Smith also told newsmen that he expected the nation's economy to "undergo some leveling out" in the next 12 months. "It's good for the country in that it will take the edge off the inflational spiral," he said.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Vaccinate Againt Influenza

Every fall or winter an outbreak of influenza of varying magnitude occurs. Although the disease is rarely fatal in itself, it is a serious threat because it often paves the way for a fatal pneumonia, especially in the aged or infirm.

Dr. Brandstadt

So far, the best weapon against this disease is a vaccine. In order to be effective it must be given well in advance of the anticipated exposure, it must be of the same type as the virus that is expected to strike your community and it must be repeated every year.

—:—

THE TYPE OF VIRUS predominating in any given year is announced by the Public Health Service after study of reports received from all parts of the world. The latest development in preventing influenza is a spray of aerosol vaccine that is easier to take and more effective than the injections formerly given. The vaccine is sprayed directly into the nose or throat and causes fewer and milder side effects than when given by injection.

Q—What is the best treatment for tic douloureax or facial neuralgia? Will the pain gradually cause blindness?

A—No single treatment is best for all victims. For complete relief in severe cases, cutting or partially cutting the trigeminal (trifacial) nerve may be necessary. Alcohol injection of the nerve has long been a standard treatment but many authorities now believe that injecting the nerve with hot water is safer and just as effective. Various drugs that can be taken by mouth have been used to control the pain. Recent reports indicate that either mephenesin carbamate or carbamazepine (Tegretol) will give prompt relief. Both are prescription drugs. Their value is limited and careful medical supervision is essential.

NO MATTER how severe the pain it will not affect your vision.

Q—My husband has had trigeminal neuralgia for eight years. It is getting worse. He is taking Demerol for the pain. What is the water-block treatment?

Coed Enters Innocent Plea In OSU Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Looking pale but composed, 18-year-old Harriet Frances Leeb appeared in municipal court here Tuesday and waived preliminary hearing on a charge of arson involving the fatal dormitory fire at Ohio State University May 22.

The girl, an OSU freshman at the time of the fire, has been under psychiatric care in a private Cleveland hospital. Her home is in South Euclid.

She sat with her attorney during the brief hearing in which Municipal Judge Robert Duncan bound her over to the Franklin County Grand Jury on her own recognizance.

Two coeds, residents of the Lincoln Tower dormitory, died of smoke inhalation in the fire.

A&P

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

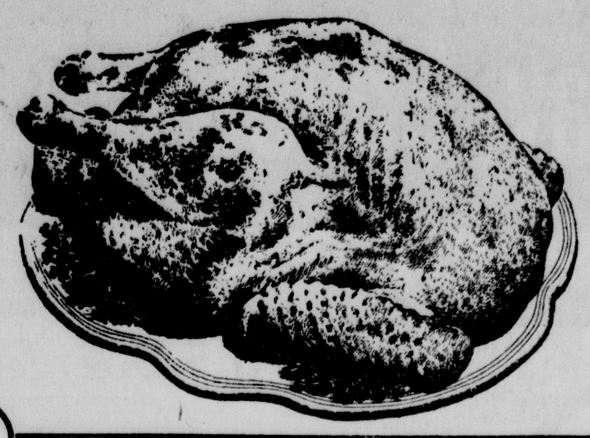

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?
Basically, because "We Care."
Specifically, because we know these facts:
The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.
Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...
NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.
The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.

So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends...
Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.
A&P can and does.
Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Would You Believe Two Wives

What could be more thrilling than one wife? Would you believe two wives? One at home and one at the office?

As Maxwell Smart, Agent 86, that's what happens to me next season. I marry Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon) on "Get Smart." The producer and writers decided it was time to end our beautiful friendship by having us get married.

How would you like to have your wife as a bridesmaid at your wedding? Huh? Well, that's what happened the day we recently filmed our wedding scene.

WHEN I TOLD my real wife, Dorothy, that I was getting married, I made the mistake of mentioning to her that we were going to use a lot of extras and bit-part players to make it all seem more real.

Right away that started the wheels turning in Dorothy's head. Before she married me Dorothy had been in show biz —and she saw MY wedding as a good reason for HER triumphant return to the business.

I won't bore you with the details, but she not only wound up being seen in the wedding scene, she even wound up getting a role as a bridesmaid, with lines to speak, yet.

I tried to remonstrate with her, but she said, would you believe, "Sorry about that, Don, but the role pays $125, which I can use as a partial payment on a new Rolls-Royce I have in mind." She really knows how to hurt a guy.

OH, I'VE GOT to tell you about Dorothy's rehearsal for her big role. The one line she had to speak was, "No, Herbert, this is between his family and her family!"

A simply line like that! So, you know what happens? For three nights in a row, before the day of the wedding scene, Dorothy insists on doing full-dress rehearsals with me at home. And she keeps blowing the line!

Finally, on the third night I say to her, "Just relax, honey, it's only one line. What are you so nervous about?"

That's all I had to say! Dorothy drew herself up to her full height, stared icily, and said to me — a two-time Emmy winner — "I'm nervous only because I'm acting with you. Tomorrow, when I'm with REAL actors I'll be just fine!"

And wouldn't you know, when the cameras rolled, she WAS just fine — and I blew my lines.

EVERYTHING is back to normal now — both on the "Get Smart" set and in the Adams household.

Except for one thing. Dorothy has it all figured out that during the 1969-70 season Agent 99 and Agent 86 simply will have to have a baby. So, in anticipation of that blessed event, Dorothy already is figuring how to act out her role. What role?

"Well," she told me the other night, "Agent 99 can't just have her baby without a nurse on hand to help her through that trying time. I'm enrolling in acting school to learn how to play a nurse."

That's show biz! My wife was not only a bridesmaid at my wedding, but now she wants to be the nurse who helps deliver my baby.

OH, ONE OTHER thing — and I find this amusing, even though you may not. Now that Agent 99 and Maxwell Smart have gotten married (it was the first show we filmed for the new season), we are now busily preparing for our wedding.

Did I har you say, how's that again?

Actually, the episode in which we get married will be about the 10th or 11th one to be aired next season. But for some reason it was the first one to be filmed for the new season. Which means that in the shows we are filming right now we are merely THINKING of getting married, and planning toward that day.

Again, that's show biz for you. A couple of weeks ago I married the girl, and now each week something happens to make it look as if we may not marry after all. Is it any wonder actors so often become confused?

Six area young people are in "satisfactory" condition today at Beaver Valley Providence General Hospital, Beaver Falls, with injuries suffered in a one-car accident Tuesday at 11:10 p. m. on old Route 51 in Darlington Township.

The injured are: the driver, Joseph Bowker Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowker Sr. of Martin St., East Palestine, multiple facial cuts, cerebral concussion and neck injuries; Joseph Colella Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Colella of 87 Vine St., East Palestine, a dislocation of the left hip; Linda D. Souders, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Souders of Rogers RD 1, a fractured left collarbone and contusion of the head.

Judy Souders, 15, a sister, fractured left lower leg; Donald L. Porter, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Porter, 585 W. Clark St., East Palestine, compound fracture of the left foot, and Paul Kyler, 18, of Rogers RD 1, who listed his nearest relative as Dorothy King of Mississippi, a sister, a compound fracture of the left wrist and laceration of the left side of the forehead.

Pennsylvania state police at the Chippewa Barracks reported that Bowker, traveling north on Legislative Route 04045, failed to halt at a stop sign, traveled through the intersection of the highway and Township Route 204, striking an embankment.

The car was towed from the scene to Jack's Service Station at Darlington. The youths were admitted to the hospital at 12:05 a. m.. They were brought from the scene of the accident by Lutton's Ambulance of Beaver Falls.

Tickets Ordered To Enforce New Rule On Parking

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he is preparing to order a new supply of tickets which police will use in enforcing legislation enacted by Council Monday night which provides a minimum $10 penalty for parking in most restricted zones.

The new tickets will resemble those now in use, except than changes will be made to show the higher penalties, Radeschi said. Tickets used on cars in restricted areas are printed on paper rectangles about 3-x-3 inches. Those handed out by "Meter Maids" for overtime violations are yellow envelopes in which the ticketed driver may enclose the penalty, if he wishes, and drop it into a curbside box.

The minimum forfeit for a restricted zone violation was raised from $1 to $10 in the new legislation. If the penalty is unpaid in the first 24 hours, the forfeit climbs to $12.

The chief prepared to order tickets after Mayor George E. Willshaw signed the legislation into law Tuesday. The legislation carries an emergency clause, which meant it went into effect immediately on approval by the mayor.

Chalk Drawing Held At Meeting

Miss VanDyke offered prayer and discussed serving Christ. She was introduced by Mrs. Clark Geer, president. Mrs. William Duncan was program chairman.

Named to a committee to make plans for the Wheeling District workshop were Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Richard Rowland and Mrs. Allison Peters. The workshop will be Sept. 12 in the Nessly Chapel.

Dr. J. L. Carraway of Clarion, Pa., who began his ministry 30 years ago at the chapel, will visit Sept. 15. A luncheon will be served by the society in his honor.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. D. Brenneman and Mrs. C. M. Brenneman from a table decorated in a blue and white color theme, centered with an arrangement of white flowers.

The next meeting will be Sept. 16 in the chapel.

Lisbon's Lone Eagle Feature Of County Fair

By PAUL YOUNG

A hero to children and respected by elders is Lisbon's own Lone Eagle, the star attraction of the 123rd annual Columbiana County Fair.

Given good weather, everything else on the grounds will mark time late Thursday afternoon as John zooms skyward harnessed to a 50,000-cubic-foot puff of hot air. He is scheduled for ascents and parachute drops Friday and Saturday also.

Ballooning has been sport to some and spectacle to others since the French sent up the first hot-air bag in 1793. Balloon ascensions and parachute drops were regular features of fairs and celebrations for many years.

A FLIGHT John saw here before he was 10 kindled a desire to "ride the sky." He was hooked — like young Columbus at quayside watching sails at sea.

There are few hot-air balloon men left, but there are more parachutists than ever. John will have a crew of six paratroopers to help him get ready on the "flight deck" of the race track infield.

Fair directors want John aloft by 5 o'clock, having learned by experience everything stops until he's away.

John says "about 5" since temperature and wind conditions control the time required to fill the balloon. The balloonist said the bag will fill in 30 minutes easily if the air is warm and still. A breeze might add another 30 minutes and create the added danger of the bag blowing against the stack and catching fire.

Technically, ascent beneath a bag of hot air hasn't changed much since 1793 when the Montgolfier brothers filled a great cloth bag over a fire pit and, for the first time, sent living things aloft. King Louis XVI watched as a sheep, duck and rooster landed safely in their wicker basket.

The "lift" in John's balloon is in a woodpile now at the end of a trench on the race track infield. At his signal, the firemen will kindle the wood and smoke and heat will pass through the trench-flue into a short chimney over which the balloon will be draped.

FRENCH peasants tore an unmanned balloon to pieces with pitchforks and scythes when it landed in their fields 15 miles from Paris in 1793. They believed it was a monstrous invader.

A network of ropes over the top and down the sides of the balloon serves as the harness. The ropes connect to a ring below the balloon.

John's new white parachute with a 32-foot spread is connected to the ring by rope and placed open on the ground. The bar on which John will ride hangs below the parachute's ropes and a trip cord extending up through the hole in the top of the chute enables him to cut loose whenever he desires.

The bar on which John will sit is 65 feet below the bottom of the balloon and the bag itself is 60 feet high — a long, skytrain.

The balloonist has no control over the height or direction of flight. The balloon will rise only while the air inside the bag is warmer — and lighter — than that outside. John will look ahead for landing sites and judge when to cut loose. He may soar for 5 or 10 minutes and climb to 3,000 to 4,000 feet. He's a tiny figure up there, chasing a beachball across an ocean of silence.

An instant after the crowd shouts "There he goes!" the white chute will pop open and people will begin to talk again after moments of quiet.

Keep one eye on the balloon when the rider cuts. Free of his weight, it usually turns sideways and, trailing smoke, falls quickly like a crushed puffball. Otherwise, the ground crew has hours of work chasing it down wind.

JOHN WAS born here and, except for six years during and after World War I when he worked in Omaha, he lived here until moving to Dungannon six years ago. He operated a local watch repair shop for 50 years.

His trademark is a shock of white hair that never knew a hat. His eyes are blue, he has his own teeth, his skin is fair and clear. Six feet tall, he walks erectly with a springy gait. He became a vegetarian years ago. He eats but one meal a day and fasts frequently to keep his weight at 160 pounds. His eating habits changed over half a century ago when he was partially crippled by arthritis. "You have to starve it out," he declared.

Fair time is sky time for John. He made his first ascent and parachute drop at the local fairgrounds in 1912. The balloon was purchased from Joe Stevens of New York, the nation's foremost aeronaut and later his superior at the Signal Corps balloon school in Omaha during World War I.

John had been up twice previously — alone in a captive or tethered balloon at Conneaut Lake Park and in a spherical gas-filled free balloon at Canton as the guest of the late Dr. Thompson, Salem physician. John recalls that another guest was the late Louis Brush, co-founder of Brush-Moore Newspapers, also making his first flight.

"Dr. Thompson planned a cross-country trip, but the wind veered and after three hours we came down just east of Canton," John related.

JOHN HAS been up approximately 50 times and has no apprehensions about the current series. He carries a balloonist license issued at Cleveland several weeks ago. This was a requirement of the fair directors before they agreed to left him perform. He says he feels fit and ready to go.

He knows every inch of the balloon and supervised cutting the muslin panels and sewing them together 10 years ago at the home of his brother, Frank E. Oliver of Leetonia. Seamstresses sewed the 75-foot-long elypitical panels together in a 12-by-12-foot room!

John will have familiar terrain as he looks down on the town. There is the spot where he sprained an ankle on the next-to-last jump in 1958; there, not 300 yards from the fairgrounds, is where he landed on a big apple tree he had planted years before in his own back yard, and there along Thomas Rd. are the wires which caught the chute and hung him two feet off the ground on his last flight in 1959. He just slid off the bar onto the ground — the softest landing he ever made.

Beaver OK's Varied Funds

BEAVER — A $12,000 contribution to the New Brighton Unit of Beaver Valley Providence Hospital was authorized by the Beaver County commissioners Tuesday to provide a 24-hour a day emergency psychiatric department.

The department would serve as an interim emergency center for such patients until completion of a new county mental hygiene center at Rochester General Hospital for which bids will be opened Thursday.

The new building is to be completed in about two years.

The Commissioners also approved $7,500 for rehabilitation of quarters for the Linz Workshop for the Mentally Retarded which is to be moved from Rochester to New Brighton to meet the need for more space.

At the recommendation of the County Planning Commission, commissioners agreed to pay 10 per cent — or $1,432 — toward the cost of installation of a $14,320 traffic control device at the intersection of Routes 51 and 151 in Hopewell Township.

Court Will Air Duties Of Juvenile Officer

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he will confer with Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon for a definition of the procedures to be followed by the city's new juvenile officer, K. J. Montgomery, in referring East Liverpool cases to the court.

Montgomery has taken up his duties after returning from schooling at the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus. The chief pointed out he will handle all cases originating in East Liverpool which involve persons under 18, but his duties will not be identical to those of court-appointed juvenile probation officers who work under Judge Tobin's direction.

Montgomery retains his status as a member of the police department with full police powers, the chief added.

The west coast has fewer thunderstorms than any other area in the country — an average of less than five a year, according to the National Geographic Society.

Zoning Guide Copies Given To Planners

LISBON — Members of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission received copies of a zoning guide prepared by McLean & McGraw, engineering consultants, Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

Gordon McLean of the Youngstown firm said additional copies will be printed and made available within 30 days for distribution to township trustees and the county commissioners.

McLean also presented a strip mine study of Columbiana County. The commission has 30 days in which to recommend changes. Material from the different studies submitted by the consultant will be incorporated in the comprehensive plan scheduled for delivery Oct. 1.

The commission last month approved the consultant's request for a three-month extension of the contract until Jan. 1.

However, J. L. Morrissey of Lisbon, RPC director, said he visited the Chicago office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development two weeks ago and learned the requested extension will be refused. Morrissey said he had notified the state development department of the RPC approval of the extension, but has had no reply.

The director added that HUD is encouraging the regional concept of planning commissions which he outlined to the county unit last month.

George Hill of East Palestine, chairman of the public relations committee, said the RPC will have a booth at the County Fair this week and distribute literature about planning. He said the same publicity will be used at the Columbiana street fair Sept. 6-7 and at the Johnny Appleseed Festival here Sept. 19-21.

The commission approved 14 subdivision applications last night and returned three others because they did not comply with regulations.

The director said he plans a trip to Columbus soon to try and speed action on the feasibility study for the proposed Summit reservoir at the headquarters of Little Beaver Creek in Green Township, Mahoning County.

As Soviet Bloc Invades Czech

U.S. Army In Germany At Lowest Total In Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet troop movement into Czechoslovakia comes at a time when the U.S. 7th Army, backbone of West Europe's defense, is at its lowest strength in years.

Because of the balance of payments problem, U.S. Army forces in West Germany have been cut to about 200,000 men and are due to drop even further by Sept. 30.

By contrast, the U.S. Army had about 273,000 soldiers arrayed along the Iron Curtain during the Berlin crisis of 1961.

U.S. tactical air strength also has been cut to ease the gold-dollar drain and to beef up U.S. air power elsewhere. The Air Force's tactical fighter strength in West Germany is down to five squadrons.

Because of this—and even more because the United States has about 543,000 men pinned down in the Vietnam war—the last problem U.S. military leaders wish to face at this time is a crisis in Europe.

The attitude of U.S. military men throughout the period of Russian threats against Czechoslovakia this summer could be summed up in this sentence: "Leave us out; we have enough problems of our own."

The United States has no military commitment to Czechoslovakia, nor does it have even an implied moral commitment to that Communist country which in the past has been as hostile to the United States as any other East European Communist state.

American officers who have assessed the relative military strength of Czechoslovakia and its Communist neighbors have felt it would be suicide for the Czechs to resist if invaded by Russia and other Warsaw Pact armies.

This realization also may have prompted the Czech leadership to caution its people against resisting.

According to recent estimates, a Czech army of some 175,000 men in 14 divisions faces overwhelming Russian, East German, Polish and other Communist force.

The Russian army has some 20 divisions in East Germany, plus four in Hungary and two in Poland. The Russians have based about 900 tactical planes in East Germany alone.

In all, Czechoslovakia could send aloft only about 600 fighter planes, most of them old model Russian-built MIGs.

Developments in Czechoslovakia may blunt efforts of some key U.S. senators to reduce U.S. forces in Germany even further.

Although the U.S. military chiefs have no wish to get into the Communist wrangle, they also have no wish to reduce U.S. strength in Germany.

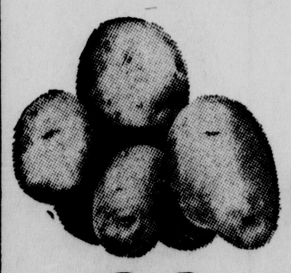

A year ago, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told Congress that he and his colleagues felt "there is no military justification for reduction of military forces in Central Europe."

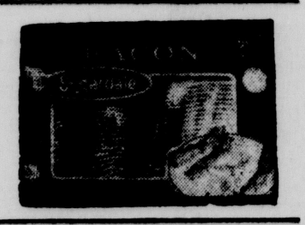

The cutdown of American armed strength along the Iron Curtain was ordered into effect nonetheless, and is now well along.

The reduction involves about 28,000 army men and about 5,000 Air Force troops.

Technically, these units are tethered to U.S. forces in Europe—that is, they are supposed to remain committed to the North Atlantic Alliance and "in a high degree of readiness" to return to Europe if needed.

Would You Believe Two Wives

Today's guest columnist for vacationing Hal Humphrey is Don Adams, star of "Get Smart," who finds himself getting married in the series this season.

What could be more thrilling than one wife? Would you believe two wives? One at home and one at the office?

As Maxwell Smart, Agent 86, that's what happens to me next season. I marry Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon) on "Get Smart." The producer and writers decided it was time to end our beautiful friendship by having us get married.

How would you like to have your wife as a bridesmaid at your wedding? Huh? Well, that's what happened the day we recently filmed our wedding scene.

WHEN I TOLD my real wife, Dorothy, that I was getting married, I made the mistake of mentioning to her that we were going to use a lot of extras and bit-part players to make it all seem more real.

Right away that started the wheels turning in Dorothy's head. Before she married me Dorothy had been in show biz —and she saw MY wedding as a good reason for HER triumphant return to the business.

I won't bore you with the details, but she not only wound up being seen in the wedding scene, she even wound up getting a role as a bridesmaid, with lines to speak, yet.

I tried to remonstrate with her, but she said, would you believe, "Sorry about that, Don, but the role pays $125, which I can use as a partial payment on a new Rolls-Royce I have in mind." She really knows how to hurt a guy.

OH, I'VE GOT to tell you about Dorothy's rehearsal for her big role. The one line she had to speak was, "No, Herbert, this is between his family and her family!"

A simply line like that! So, you know what happens? For three nights in a row, before the day of the wedding scene, Dorothy insists on doing full-dress rehearsals with me at home. And she keeps blowing the line!

Finally, on the third night I say to her, "Just relax, honey, it's only one line. What are you so nervous about?"

That's all I had to say! Dorothy drew herself up to her full height, stared icily, and said to me — a two-time Emmy winner — "I'm nervous only because I'm acting with you. Tomorrow, when I'm with REAL actors I'll be just fine!"

And wouldn't you know, when the cameras rolled, she WAS just fine — and I blew my lines.

EVERYTHING is back to normal now — both on the "Get Smart" set and in the Adams household.

Except for one thing. Dorothy has it all figured out that during the 1969-70 season Agent 99 and Agent 86 simply will have to have a baby. So, in anticipation of that blessed event, Dorothy already is figuring how to act out her role. What role?

"Well," she told me the other night, "Agent 99 can't just have her baby without a nurse on hand to help her through that trying time. I'm enrolling in acting school to learn how to play a nurse."

That's show biz! My wife was not only a bridesmaid at my wedding, but now she wants to be the nurse who helps deliver my baby.

OH, ONE OTHER thing — and I find this amusing, even though you may not. Now that Agent 99 and Maxwell Smart have gotten married (it was the first show we filmed for the new season), we are now busily preparing for our wedding.

Did I har you say, how's that again?

Actually, the episode in which we get married will be about the 10th or 11th one to be aired next season. But for some reason it was the first one to be filmed for the new season. Which means that in the shows we are filming right now we are merely THINKING of getting married, and planning toward that day.

Again, that's show biz for you. A couple of weeks ago I married the girl, and now each week something happens to make it look as if we may not marry after all. Is it any wonder actors so often become confused?

Pennsylvania state police at the Chippewa Barracks reported that Bowker, traveling north on Legislative Route 04045, failed to halt at a stop sign, traveled through the intersection of the highway and Township Route 204, striking an embankment.

The car was towed from the scene to Jack's Service Station at Darlington. The youths were admitted to the hospital at 12:05 a. m.. They were brought from the scene of the accident by Lutton's Ambulance of Beaver Falls.

Tickets Ordered To Enforce New Rule On Parking

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he is preparing to order a new supply of tickets which police will use in enforcing legislation enacted by Council Monday night which provides a minimum $10 penalty for parking in most restricted zones.

The new tickets will resemble those now in use, except than changes will be made to show the higher penalties, Radeschi said. Tickets used on cars in restricted areas are printed on paper rectangles about 3-x-3 inches. Those handed out by "Meter Maids" for overtime violations are yellow envelopes in which the ticketed driver may enclose the penalty, if he wishes, and drop it into a curbside box.

The minimum forfeit for a restricted zone violation was raised from $1 to $10 in the new legislation. If the penalty is unpaid in the first 24 hours, the forfeit climbs to $12.

The chief prepared to order tickets after Mayor George E. Willshaw signed the legislation into law Tuesday. The legislation carries an emergency clause, which meant it went into effect immediately on approval by the mayor.

Chalk Drawing Held At Meeting

Miss VanDyke offered prayer and discussed serving Christ. She was introduced by Mrs. Clark Geer, president. Mrs. William Duncan was program chairman.

Named to a committee to make plans for the Wheeling District workshop were Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Richard Rowland and Mrs. Allison Peters. The workshop will be Sept. 12 in the Nessly Chapel.

Dr. J. L. Carraway of Clarion, Pa., who began his ministry 30 years ago at the chapel, will visit Sept. 15. A luncheon will be served by the society in his honor.

A white elephant sale was conducted by Mrs. Peters, with proceeds to be used for society projects.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. R. D. Brenneman and Mrs. C. M. Brenneman from a table decorated in a blue and white color theme, centered with an arrangement of white flowers.

The next meeting will be Sept. 16 in the chapel.

Lisbon's Lone Eagle Feature Of County Fair

By PAUL YOUNG

A hero to children and respected by elders is Lisbon's own Lone Eagle, the star attraction of the 123rd annual Columbiana County Fair.

Given good weather, everything else on the grounds will mark time late Thursday afternoon as John zooms skyward harnessed to a 50,000-cubic-foot puff of hot air. He is scheduled for ascents and parachute drops Friday and Saturday also.

Ballooning has been sport to some and spectacle to others since the French sent up the first hot-air bag in 1793. Balloon ascensions and parachute drops were regular features of fairs and celebrations for many years.

A FLIGHT John saw here before he was 10 kindled a desire to "ride the sky." He was hooked — like young Columbus at quayside watching sails at sea.

There are few hot-air balloon men left, but there are more parachutists than ever. John will have a crew of six paratroopers to help him get ready on the "flight deck" of the race track infield.

Fair directors want John aloft by 5 o'clock, having learned by experience everything stops until he's away.

John says "about 5" since temperature and wind conditions control the time required to fill the balloon. The balloonist said the bag will fill in 30 minutes easily if the air is warm and still. A breeze might add another 30 minutes and create the added danger of the bag blowing against the stack and catching fire.

Technically, ascent beneath a bag of hot air hasn't changed much since 1793 when the Montgolfier brothers filled a great cloth bag over a fire pit and, for the first time, sent living things aloft. King Louis XVI watched as a sheep, duck and rooster landed safely in their wicker basket.

The "lift" in John's balloon is in a woodpile now at the end of a trench on the race track infield. At his signal, the firemen will kindle the wood and smoke and heat will pass through the trench-flue into a short chimney over which the balloon will be draped.

FRENCH peasants tore an unmanned balloon to pieces with pitchforks and scythes when it landed in their fields 15 miles from Paris in 1793. They believed it was a monstrous invader.

A network of ropes over the top and down the sides of the balloon serves as the harness. The ropes connect to a ring below the balloon.

John's new white parachute with a 32-foot spread is connected to the ring by rope and placed open on the ground. The bar on which John will ride hangs below the parachute's ropes and a trip cord extending up through the hole in the top of the chute enables him to cut loose whenever he desires.

The bar on which John will sit is 65 feet below the bottom of the balloon and the bag itself is 60 feet high — a long, skytrain.

The balloonist has no control over the height or direction of flight. The balloon will rise only while the air inside the bag is warmer — and lighter — than that outside. John will look ahead for landing sites and judge when to cut loose. He may soar for 5 or 10 minutes and climb to 3,000 to 4,000 feet. He's a tiny figure up there, chasing a beachball across an ocean of silence.

An instant after the crowd shouts "There he goes!" the white chute will pop open and people will begin to talk again after moments of quiet.

Keep one eye on the balloon when the rider cuts. Free of his weight, it usually turns sideways and, trailing smoke, falls quickly like a crushed puffball. Otherwise, the ground crew has hours of work chasing it down wind.

JOHN WAS born here and, except for six years during and after World War I when he worked in Omaha, he lived here until moving to Dungannon six years ago. He operated a local watch repair shop for 50 years.

His trademark is a shock of white hair that never knew a hat. His eyes are blue, he has his own teeth, his skin is fair and clear. Six feet tall, he walks erectly with a springy gait. He became a vegetarian years ago. He eats but one meal a day and fasts frequently to keep his weight at 160 pounds. His eating habits changed over half a century ago when he was partially crippled by arthritis. "You have to starve it out," he declared.

Fair time is sky time for John. He made his first ascent and parachute drop at the local fairgrounds in 1912. The balloon was purchased from Joe Stevens of New York, the nation's foremost aeronaut and later his superior at the Signal Corps balloon school in Omaha during World War I.

John had been up twice previously — alone in a captive or tethered balloon at Conneaut Lake Park and in a spherical gas-filled free balloon at Canton as the guest of the late Dr. Thompson, Salem physician. John recalls that another guest was the late Louis Brush, co-founder of Brush-Moore Newspapers, also making his first flight.

"Dr. Thompson planned a cross-country trip, but the wind veered and after three hours we came down just east of Canton," John related.

JOHN HAS been up approximately 50 times and has no apprehensions about the current series. He carries a balloonist license issued at Cleveland several weeks ago. This was a requirement of the fair directors before they agreed to left him perform. He says he feels fit and ready to go.

He knows every inch of the balloon and supervised cutting the muslin panels and sewing them together 10 years ago at the home of his brother, Frank E. Oliver of Leetonia. Seamstresses sewed the 75-foot-long elypitical panels together in a 12-by-12-foot room!

John will have familiar terrain as he looks down on the town. There is the spot where he sprained an ankle on the next-to-last jump in 1958; there, not 300 yards from the fairgrounds, is where he landed on a big apple tree he had planted years before in his own back yard, and there along Thomas Rd. are the wires which caught the chute and hung him two feet off the ground on his last flight in 1959. He just slid off the bar onto the ground — the softest landing he ever made.

Beaver OK's Varied Funds

BEAVER — A $12,000 contribution to the New Brighton Unit of Beaver Valley Providence Hospital was authorized by the Beaver County commissioners Tuesday to provide a 24-hour a day emergency psychiatric department.

The department would serve as an interim emergency center for such patients until completion of a new county mental hygiene center at Rochester General Hospital for which bids will be opened Thursday.

The new building is to be completed in about two years.

The Commissioners also approved $7,500 for rehabilitation of quarters for the Linz Workshop for the Mentally Retarded which is to be moved from Rochester to New Brighton to meet the need for more space.

At the recommendation of the County Planning Commission, commissioners agreed to pay 10 per cent — or $1,432 — toward the cost of installation of a $14,320 traffic control device at the intersection of Routes 51 and 151 in Hopewell Township.

Court Will Air Duties Of Juvenile Officer

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he will confer with Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon for a definition of the procedures to be followed by the city's new juvenile officer, K. J. Montgomery, in referring East Liverpool cases to the court.

Montgomery has taken up his duties after returning from schooling at the Ohio Youth Commission at Columbus. The chief pointed out he will handle all cases originating in East Liverpool which involve persons under 18, but his duties will not be identical to those of court-appointed juvenile probation officers who work under Judge Tobin's direction.

Montgomery retains his status as a member of the police department with full police powers, the chief added.

The west coast has fewer thunderstorms than any other area in the country — an average of less than five a year, according to the National Geographic Society.

Zoning Guide Copies Given To Planners

LISBON — Members of the Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission received copies of a zoning guide prepared by McLean & McGraw, engineering consultants, Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

Gordon McLean of the Youngstown firm said additional copies will be printed and made available within 30 days for distribution to township trustees and the county commissioners.

McLean also presented a strip mine study of Columbiana County. The commission has 30 days in which to recommend changes. Material from the different studies submitted by the consultant will be incorporated in the comprehensive plan scheduled for delivery Oct. 1.

The commission last month approved the consultant's request for a three-month extension of the contract until Jan. 1.

However, J. L. Morrissey of Lisbon, RPC director, said he visited the Chicago office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development two weeks ago and learned the requested extension will be refused. Morrissey said he had notified the state development department of the RPC approval of the extension, but has had no reply.

The director added that HUD is encouraging the regional concept of planning commissions which he outlined to the county unit last month.

George Hill of East Palestine, chairman of the public relations committee, said the RPC will have a booth at the County Fair this week and distribute literature about planning. He said the same publicity will be used at the Columbiana street fair Sept. 6-7 and at the Johnny Appleseed Festival here Sept. 19-21.

The commission approved 14 subdivision applications last night and returned three others because they did not comply with regulations.

The director said he plans a trip to Columbus soon to try and speed action on the feasibility study for the proposed Summit reservoir at the headquarters of Little Beaver Creek in Green Township, Mahoning County.

As Soviet Bloc Invades Czech

U.S. Army In Germany At Lowest Total In Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet troop movement into Czechoslovakia comes at a time when the U.S. 7th Army, backbone of West Europe's defense, is at its lowest strength in years.

Because of the balance of payments problem, U.S. Army forces in West Germany have been cut to about 200,000 men and are due to drop even further by Sept. 30.

By contrast, the U.S. Army had about 273,000 soldiers arrayed along the Iron Curtain during the Berlin crisis of 1961.

U.S. tactical air strength also has been cut to ease the gold-dollar drain and to beef up U.S. air power elsewhere. The Air Force's tactical fighter strength in West Germany is down to five squadrons.

Because of this—and even more because the United States has about 543,000 men pinned down in the Vietnam war—the last problem U.S. military leaders wish to face at this time is a crisis in Europe.

The attitude of U.S. military men throughout the period of Russian threats against Czechoslovakia this summer could be summed up in this sentence: "Leave us out; we have enough problems of our own."

The United States has no military commitment to Czechoslovakia, nor does it have even an implied moral commitment to that Communist country which in the past has been as hostile to the United States as any other East European Communist state.

American officers who have assessed the relative military strength of Czechoslovakia and its Communist neighbors have felt it would be suicide for the Czechs to resist if invaded by Russia and other Warsaw Pact armies.

This realization also may have prompted the Czech leadership to caution its people against resisting.

According to recent estimates, a Czech army of some 175,000 men in 14 divisions faces overwhelming Russian, East German, Polish and other Communist force.

The Russian army has some 20 divisions in East Germany, plus four in Hungary and two in Poland. The Russians have based about 900 tactical planes in East Germany alone.

The East German army numbers some 85,000 men in six divisions, the Polish army some 185,000 men in 16 divisions.

In all, Czechoslovakia could send aloft only about 600 fighter planes, most of them old model Russian-built MIGs.

Developments in Czechoslovakia may blunt efforts of some key U.S. senators to reduce U.S. forces in Germany even further.

Although the U.S. military chiefs have no wish to get into the Communist wrangle, they also have no wish to reduce U.S. strength in Germany.

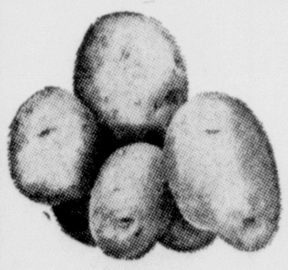

A year ago, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told Congress that he and his colleagues felt "there is no military justification for reduction of military forces in Central Europe."

The cutdown of American armed strength along the Iron Curtain was ordered into effect nonetheless, and is now well along.

The reduction involves about 28,000 army men and about 5,000 Air Force troops.

Technically, these units are tethered to U.S. forces in Europe—that is, they are supposed to remain committed to the North Atlantic Alliance and "in a high degree of readiness" to return to Europe if needed.

King Addresses Rotary

Speaker Stresses Value Of University Branches

"A community that has a branch university is fortunate indeed," Prof. Richard King, director of the Kent State Academic Center here, told Rotarians at their meeting Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

King pointed out to the club that a branch in a community is a motivating factor.

A student purchases clothing, services, gasoline and other articles, and contributes to the economics of the community. He brings in speakers, concerts, forms clubs, etc., and the branch thus becomes a cultural focal point.

There are 35 branches of Ohio's state universities in Ohio. East Liverpool's Kent center had an enrollment last year of 373. Of this number 220 were East Liverpool residents. As the enrollment increases, King said, we have a parking problem, "but we are now happy to be able to tell prospective students we have our own building, the former high school, for their use."

King said the majority of the students are in the upper third of their high school class, and they expect to receive a good education. The branch will offer 53 classes this fall. The number of area students going to college has increased since the branch located here, King said.

The Rotary Club will meet at the "Turkana Farm" next Tuesday for its annual picnic. There will be no noon meeting.

Periods Of Irregular Heart Beat

Ike Rests Comfortably, Sees Members Of Family

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is resting comfortably and receiving visits from members of his family although he still suffers brief periods of irregular heart beat.

This was the sum of the latest medical bulletin issued by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital Tuesday night.

They added that the 77-year-old Eisenhower's condition remained essentially unchanged throughout the day as they sought to bring him through his seventh heart attack, suffered last Friday.

There was a report, meanwhile, by the Washington Post that a new experimental drug was being used on the five-star Army general and that it could be contributing to a decrease over the past few days in the periods of irregular heart beat.

The Post said the drug was bretylium tosylate. The paper said it had produced dramatic results at other medical centers.

There was no comment from the hospital on the report.

The Tuesday night medical bulletin said:

"Gen. Eisenhower's condition remains essentially unchanged. He continues to have brief episodes of irregular heart action from time to time. He is resting comfortably and enjoys brief visits from members of the immediate family."

The family members were not identified. But Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, has been living at the hospital for the past few weeks and sleeps in a room near his.

Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower's former vice president who is now the Republican presidential candidate, visited the hospital Tuesday and conferred with Eisenhower's doctors and members of the family, including the general's son, John.

Nixon emerged from the 45-minute visit to describe Eisenhower's battle to survive as courageous.

"His chances for recovery are certainly not to be underestimated, despite his critical condition," Nixon said.

Nixon did not see Eisenhower because, the former vice president explained, "anything in the political field at this time would excite him."

But Nixon said the general's will to live" cannot be discounted.

"The thing that was most encouraging to me," Nixon said, "was that the general's spirit is so outstanding. A young staff doctor said the general's spirit is a lesson in courage to all members of the staff."

Earlier in the day the doctors had said there had been a generally favorable trend in reduction of the muscle-twitching irregular beats, but that the outlook for recovery remained guarded or unpredictable.

McCarthy Supporters Set Floor Attack On HHH Bid

CHICAGO (AP)—Losers in four preliminary challenges, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's supporters armed today for a three-pronged convention floor attack on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Democratic presidential nomination strength.

Stephen A. Mitchell, a former national chairman and McCarthy's convention manager, said the smoking issues of a Vietnam war plank, delegate seating and unit-rule voting will be taken to the convention itself in an effort to win support for the Minnesota senator in his uphill battle against the vice president.

In Philadelphia, McCarthy forecast an active floor fight over a Vietnam plank he obviously expected the Platform Committee, meeting in Washington, to fashion on a harder line than he has taken.

"As of now," McCarthy said, "we expect to do better on the floor than in the Platform Committee."

Just how this floor fight might go, however, seemed likely to be influenced by the action of Russia and four other Communist bloc countries in sending troops into Czechoslovakia.

This move against a country trying to loosen Moscow's grip on its affairs seemed likely to some political leaders to increase East-West tensions to the detriment of efforts to negotiate some kind of peace in Vietnam.

Humphrey, who sat in on a security council meeting called by President Johnson Tuesday night, was generally expected to reflect administration views on this new international crisis.

Without reference to these developments, Mitchell expressed confidence in an interview that coordinated attacks on Vietnam policies, delegate seating and unit rule voting would generate a surge of support toward McCarthy, as the original challenger of Johnson's policies, and away from Humphrey, as a defender of them.

"Our chief problem at the convention is to translate into delegate votes the sentiment expressed by the people in primaries and recorded by polls across the country that McCarthy is a November winner," Mitchell said.

"We believe that our fight for an open convention, with representative voting and the elimination of the gag rule of forcing all members of a delegation to vote by the majority's edict will attract support from uncommitted and Humphrey delegates."

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) leader and another supporter of McCarthy, said the aim is to make McCarthy "the civil rights candidate of this convention."

As a possible indication of things to come, the credentials committee rejected challenges brought by the McCarthy forces against the state delegations representing Washington, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Minnesota. The latter is the home state of both Humphrey and McCarthy.

McCarthy supporters contended primarily that they had not been given fair representation in these delegations.

The committee also voted against seating the predominantly white regular party delegation from Mississippi, opening the door to a biracial group.

Rauh called this action "a tremendous thing for civil rights in the South." But it was a sham victory, for Humphrey also had opposed seating the regulars.

Mitchell said the McCarthy forces will make a concerted effort to break apart the unit voting rule within the Texas delegation headed by Gov. John Connally as a favorite son.

With no evidence he was motivated by this threat, Connally was reported planning a quick trip to Chicago. He was quoted as being "highly displeased" with what he regarded as "dovish" statements by Humphrey on Vietnam and the possibility that he might tap McCarthy for his running mate if nominated.

Humphrey has acted to release all delegates held under the unit rule and Lawrence F. O'Brien, former postmaster general and one of the vice president's chief strategists, said that should end the matter.

The convention's actions on the civil rights front could be complicated by demonstrations which Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro acted to prevent in ordering 5,469 Illinois National Guardsmen to active duty Friday morning at the request of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago to protect the convention from "tumult, riot or disorder."

This tightening of security was reported ready for supplement by regular Army troops undergoing riot training at Ft. Hood, Texas, if additional force should be needed.

Lisbon Child Found Dead In Bathroom

LISBON — Timothy Earl Reynolds, 13-month-old son of Bernard and Virginia Beatty Reynolds of 322 Caldwell Ave., drowned about 4:30 p. m. Monday in the bathroom at home.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, ruled the death accidental. The mother told authorities she found the child head down in the toilet. She took him to a local physician, who pronounced him dead.

Timothy Earl was born July 8, 1967, in Salem. In addition to his parents, he leaves two sisters, Martha Jean and Bonnie Hope, both at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beatty, and his great-grandmothers, Mrs. Ross Reynolds and Mrs. Betty Feight, all of Lisbon.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Henry Funeral Home, where friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

The Rev. Paul Haney of the First Christian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Air-Conditioning And Painting Set For Legion Post

Plans were made to air condition the meeting room and kitchen when Wellsville American Legion Post 70 met Monday night.

Comdr. Kenneth Hoover announced that the interior of the post home will be painted this week.

The entertainment committee reported that Little Charlie's Combo will play for dancing Saturday from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. There also will be an "old-fashioned social hour" from 8 to 10 preceding the dance.

Glenn Mathess, Ernest Johnson, Earl Reed and David Grimm were enrolled as new members and David Byers was elected a three-year trustee to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of J. W. Gitschier.

Sam Maylone, drill sergeant, announced that the drill team and color guard will appear at Scio Friday night, at the County Fair in Lisbon Sunday and at Columbiana Sept. 5. New members interested in joining the drill team may attend the practice session Thursday at 7 p. m.

Robert Beresford told of visiting with Shirley Krotzer, a past commander of Post 70, now residing at Daytona Beach, Fla., and suggested that members contact Krotzer when in that area. A donation was made to the Tri-State Colt League to help with expenses during the California trip. The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m.

Firm To Supply Forms To County

LISBON — Commissioners Monday awarded an $850 contract to the Fisher Printing Co. of Columbiana to provide 110,000 real estate tax receipts.

The Lyle Printing & Publishing Co. of Salem offered the forms at $575 and Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus bid $1,215. Commissioners said the treasurer's office reviewed the bids and advised the lowest did not meet specifications.

Commissioners notified Hanover Township trustees Tuesday that George, Mickey and Steve Stepanic, who operate Forest Lanes on Route 30 west of Hanoverton, have applied for D-1 and D-2 permits to sell 3.2 and 6 per cent beer and wine.

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control notified the commissioners of the application. Resolutions of opposition, if any, must be filed not later than Sept. 14.

Vermont F. McBurney of East Liverpool, deputy clerk in County Southwest Court at Lisbon, notified the commissioners he will resign Aug. 31 to move out of the state. He is the second night clerk to resign. James Evans of Elkton resigned earlier this month to work for the State Highway Department at Leetonia and his place was taken by Bernard Wright of East Liverpool.

Commissioners directed the prosecuting attorney to take legal steps to terminate an oil lease with D. F. Ellyson.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What is the best way of washing fine glassware?

A.—Use lukewarm water to which ammonia has been added. Rinse with clear water, and your glassware should sparkle. Ornamental cut or etched glassware that is deeply cut can be cleaned and brightened by scrubbing with a soft brush dipped in baking soda solution. Rinse, and dry with a soft towel.

Q.—How can I take steps to prevent leather shoes that have gotten wet from cracking?

King Addresses Rotary

Speaker Stresses Value Of University Branches

"A community that has a branch university is fortunate indeed," Prof. Richard King, director of the Kent State Academic Center here, told Rotarians at their meeting Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

King pointed out to the club that a branch in a community is a motivating factor.

A student purchases clothing, services, gasoline and other articles, and contributes to the economics of the community. He brings in speakers, concerts, forms clubs, etc., and the branch thus becomes a cultural focal point.

There are 35 branches of Ohio's state universities in Ohio. East Liverpool's Kent center had an enrollment last year of 373. Of this number 220 were East Liverpool residents. As the enrollment increases, King said, we have a parking problem, "but we are now happy to be able to tell prospective students we have our own building, the former high school, for their use."

King said the majority of the students are in the upper third of their high school class, and they expect to receive a good education. The branch will offer 53 classes this fall. The number of area students going to college has increased since the branch located here, King said.

The Rotary Club will meet at the "Turkana Farm" next Tuesday for its annual picnic. There will be no noon meeting.

Periods Of Irregular Heart Beat

Ike Rests Comfortably, Sees Members Of Family

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is resting comfortably and receiving visits from members of his family although he still suffers brief periods of irregular heart beat.

This was the sum of the latest medical bulletin issued by doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital Tuesday night.

They added that the 77-year-old Eisenhower's condition remained essentially unchanged throughout the day as they sought to bring him through his seventh heart attack, suffered last Friday.

There was a report, meanwhile, by the Washington Post that a new experimental drug was being used on the five-star Army general and that it could be contributing to a decrease over the past few days in the periods of irregular heart beat.

The Post said the drug was bretylium tosylate. The paper said it had produced dramatic results at other medical centers.

There was no comment from the hospital on the report.

The Tuesday night medical bulletin said:

"Gen. Eisenhower's condition remains essentially unchanged. He continues to have brief episodes of irregular heart action from time to time. He is resting comfortably and enjoys brief visits from members of the immediate family."

The family members were not identified. But Eisenhower's wife, Mamie, has been living at the hospital for the past few weeks and sleeps in a room near his.

Richard M. Nixon, Eisenhower's former vice president who is now the Republican presidential candidate, visited the hospital Tuesday and conferred with Eisenhower's doctors and members of the family, including the general's son, John.

Nixon emerged from the 45-minute visit to describe Eisenhower's battle to survive as courageous.

"His chances for recovery are certainly not to be underestimated, despite his critical condition," Nixon said.

Nixon did not see Eisenhower because, the former vice president explained, "anything in the political field at this time would excite him."

But Nixon said the general's will to live" cannot be discounted.

"The thing that was most encouraging to me," Nixon said, "was that the general's spirit is so outstanding. A young staff doctor said the general's spirit is a lesson in courage to all members of the staff."

Earlier in the day the doctors had said there had been a generally favorable trend in reduction of the muscle-twitching irregular beats, but that the outlook for recovery remained guarded or unpredictable.

McCarthy Supporters Set Floor Attack On HHH Bid

CHICAGO (AP)—Losers in four preliminary challenges, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's supporters armed today for a three-pronged convention floor attack on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Democratic presidential nomination strength.

Stephen A. Mitchell, a former national chairman and McCarthy's convention manager, said the smoking issues of a Vietnam war plank, delegate seating and unit-rule voting will be taken to the convention itself in an effort to win support for the Minnesota senator in his uphill battle against the vice president.

In Philadelphia, McCarthy forecast an active floor fight over a Vietnam plank he obviously expected the Platform Committee, meeting in Washington, to fashion on a harder line than he has taken.

"As of now," McCarthy said, "we expect to do better on the floor than in the Platform Committee."

Just how this floor fight might go, however, seemed likely to be influenced by the action of Russia and four other Communist bloc countries in sending troops into Czechoslovakia.

This move against a country trying to loosen Moscow's grip on its affairs seemed likely to some political leaders to increase East-West tensions to the detriment of efforts to negotiate some kind of peace in Vietnam.

Humphrey, who sat in on a security council meeting called by President Johnson Tuesday night, was generally expected to reflect administration views on this new international crisis.

Without reference to these developments, Mitchell expressed confidence in an interview that coordinated attacks on Vietnam policies, delegate seating and unit rule voting would generate a surge of support toward McCarthy, as the original challenger of Johnson's policies, and away from Humphrey, as a defender of them.

"Our chief problem at the convention is to translate into delegate votes the sentiment expressed by the people in primaries and recorded by polls across the country that McCarthy is a November winner," Mitchell said.

"We believe that our fight for an open convention, with representative voting and the elimination of the gag rule of forcing all members of a delegation to vote by the majority's edict will attract support from uncommitted and Humphrey delegates."

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) leader and another supporter of McCarthy, said the aim is to make McCarthy "the civil rights candidate of this convention."

As a possible indication of things to come, the credentials committee rejected challenges brought by the McCarthy forces against the state delegations representing Washington, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Minnesota. The latter is the home state of both Humphrey and McCarthy.

McCarthy supporters contended primarily that they had not been given fair representation in these delegations.

The committee also voted against seating the predominantly white regular party delegation from Mississippi, opening the door to a biracial group.

Rauh called this action "a tremendous thing for civil rights in the South." But it was a shared victory, for Humphrey also had opposed seating the regulars.

Mitchell said the McCarthy forces will make a concerted effort to break apart the unit voting rule within the Texas delegation headed by Gov. John Connally as a favorite son.

With no evidence he was motivated by this threat, Connally was reported planning a quick trip to Chicago. He was quoted as being "highly displeased" with what he regarded as "dovish" statements by Humphrey on Vietnam and the possibility that he might tap McCarthy for his running mate if nominated.

Humphrey has acted to release all delegates held under the unit rule and Lawrence F. O'Brien, former postmaster general and one of the vice president's chief strategists, said that should end the matter.

The convention's actions on the civil rights front could be complicated by demonstrations which Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro acted to prevent in ordering 5,469 Illinois National Guardsmen to active duty Friday morning at the request of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago to protect the convention from "tumult, riot or disorder."

This tightening of security was reported ready for supplement by regular Army troops undergoing riot training at Ft. Hood, Texas, if additional force should be needed.

Lisbon Child Found Dead In Bathroom

LISBON — Timothy Earl Reynolds, 13-month-old son of Bernard and Virginia Beatty Reynolds of 322 Caldwell Ave., drowned about 4:30 p. m. Monday in the bathroom at home.

Dr. William Kolozsi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, ruled the death accidental. The mother told authorities she found the child head down in the toilet. She took him to a local physician, who pronounced him dead.

Timothy Earl was born July 8, 1967, in Salem. In addition to his parents, he leaves two sisters, Martha Jean and Bonnie Hope, both at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beatty, and his great-grandmothers, Mrs. Ross Reynolds and Mrs. Betty Feight, all of Lisbon.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Henry Funeral Home, where friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

The Rev. Paul Haney of the First Christian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Air-Conditioning And Painting Set For Legion Post

Plans were made to air condition the meeting room and kitchen when Wellsville American Legion Post 70 met Monday night.

Comdr. Kenneth Hoover announced that the interior of the post home will be painted this week.

The entertainment committee reported that Little Charlie's Combo will play for dancing Saturday from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. There also will be an "old-fashioned social hour" from 8 to 10 preceding the dance.

Glenn Mathess, Ernest Johnson, Earl Reed and David Grimm were enrolled as new members and David Byers was elected a three-year trustee to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of J. W. Gitschier.

Sam Maylone, drill sergeant, announced that the drill team and color guard will appear at Scio Friday night, at the County Fair in Lisbon Sunday and at Columbiana Sept. 5. New members interested in joining the drill team may attend the practice session Thursday at 7 p. m.

Robert Beresford told of visiting with Shirley Krotzer, a past commander of Post 70, now residing at Daytona Beach, Fla., and suggested that members contact Krotzer when in that area. A donation was made to the Tri-State Colt League to help with expenses during the California trip. The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m.

Firm To Supply Forms To County

LISBON — Commissioners Monday awarded an $850 contract to the Fisher Printing Co. of Columbiana to provide 110,000 real estate tax receipts.

The Lyle Printing & Publishing Co. of Salem offered the forms at $575 and Columbus Blank Book Co. of Columbus bid $1,215. Commissioners said the treasurer's office reviewed the bids and advised the lowest did not meet specifications.

Commissioners notified Hanover Township trustees Tuesday that George, Mickey and Steve Stepanic, who operate Forest Lanes on Route 30 west of Hanoverton, have applied for D-1 and D-2 permits to sell 3.2 and 6 per cent beer and wine.

The Ohio Department of Liquor Control notified the commissioners of the application. Resolutions of opposition, if any, must be filed not later than Sept. 14.

Vermont F. McBurney of East Liverpool, deputy clerk in County Southwest Court at Lisbon, notified the commissioners he will resign Aug. 31 to move out of the state. He is the second night clerk to resign. James Evans of Elkton resigned earlier this month to work for the State Highway Department at Leetonia and his place was taken by Bernard Wright of East Liverpool.

Commissioners directed the prosecuting attorney to take legal steps to terminate an oil lease with D. F. Ellyson.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATBOATS

QUESTION: What is a catboat? Can one build it — if so, how?

ANSWER: A catboat, usually called a cat, is a certain rig of sailboat. Like the sloop, it has only one mast. But the sloop's mast is set further aft, and has one or more triangular jibs in front. The cat's mast is set very far forward, and there is only one sail. This may be either pointed on top (marconi) or the older boom and gaff type (silhouette to right). We show several types of cat. Some are very wide or beamy, such as the one at bottom, and usually fitted with a centerboard going through the bottom, which can be raised or lowered. Only a person expert in boatbuilding can build a really good sailboat from the keel up. However, it is perfectly possible for the amateur builder to construct a very good boat by buying a kit which will contain all the materials with exact instructions for putting them together. Using such a kit, the writer, without previous boatbuilding experience, put together the 12-foot dinghy shown. It turned out splendidly. You will need sharp tools and a lot of patience. This kind of work can't be hurried. You can get catalogues from the makers of boatbuilding kits.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATBOATS

QUESTION: What is a catboat? Can one build it — if so, how?

ANSWER: A catboat, usually called a cat, is a certain rig of sailboat. Like the sloop, it has only one mast. But the sloop's mast is set further aft, and has one or more triangular jibs in front. The cat's mast is set very far forward, and there is only one sail. This may be either pointed on top (marconi) or the older boom and gaff type (silhouette to right). We show several types of cat. Some are very wide or beamy, such as the one at bottom, and usually fitted with a centerboard going through the bottom, which can be raised or lowered. Only a person expert in boatbuilding can build a really good sailboat from the keel up. However, it is perfectly possible for the amateur builder to construct a very good boat by buying a kit which will contain all the materials with exact instructions for putting them together. Using such a kit, the writer, without previous boatbuilding experience, put together the 12-foot dinghy shown. It turned out splendidly. You will need sharp tools and a lot of patience. This kind of work can't be hurried. You can get catalogues from the makers of boatbuilding kits.
